I thought that the goal of press release, per Lou's request, is to alert people that the algae have been found somewhere else and of the cross-contamination problem. With that in mind I made a lots of edits to the release, and it needs more information about efforts regarding other streams -- see my note in capitals. Please let me know if I got this wrong.

Sorry, David, but straight assertions on how the TDS got there gets closer and closer to our enforcement action, on which we are still working. we can say t hat we are looking at the discharges into the creek, but I'm not ready to point fingers.
