

Mr. Train:

By your buttinsky policies, by your supercilious, unrealistic efforts to control the country and bankrupt the people under the guise of cleaning up the air, your days may well be numbered.

It is not enough that you are an ignorant, dictatorial socialist, you seem totally unaware of the cost to the people in giving up warmth for your comfort zone; paying for expensive valve jobs with your unleaded gasoline mandate, and in short, paying ~~for~~ more for homes - when they can get them, thanks to your unconstitutional interference in our local and country zoning boards. You can pound sand, you simpering sonofabitch, and when I see you - and you are being observed, you will wish you had never lived. Viva la revolution, Junior. You're creating it big by curtailing our freedoms... And if you think you can convert this nation into a slave state without a tremendous price to even you fucking bureaucrats, you've got another think coming. You, the OSHAcrats, the CPAcrats and Common Cause and socialist-communist swine will never be able to rest in peace if you continue your destructive measures. Break the people and blood shall flow... Beware, bastard!!
