Mitchell,

Thank you. I've attached a copy of the survey that was the basis for the land transfer. It shows the flagpole outside the boundary of what was transferred to the federal government.

Regards,
Joshua

Commissioner Silver,

As we discussed, a recent review of our records served to remind us that the Ephraim Elmer Ellsworth Memorial Flagstaff at the eastern tip of Christopher Park is in fact on City property and not within the official boundary of Stonewall National Monument. It is therefore outside the jurisdiction of the NPS.

Given this, on behalf of the National Parks of New York Harbor, I would like to offer the donation of all flags placed on the flagstaff by the NPS to the New York City Parks Department. You are welcome to fly them or exchange them as you see fit. We will remove and keep an NPS banner that was placed on the pole.

We are deeply grateful for the City's cooperation during the designation of Stonewall National Monument and I want to thank you personally for your support and for the ongoing assistance of the Parks Department during the past year. We look forward to working with you under our Cooperative Management Agreement in the times ahead.

Your acknowledgement of this donation will immediately effect the transfer of ownership of these flags. Please do not hesitate to call me with any questions.

Sincerely,
Joshua Laird

Mitchell,

Thank you. I've attached a copy of the survey that was the basis for the land transfer. It shows the flagpole outside the boundary of what was transferred to the federal government.

Regards,
Joshua

Given this, on behalf of the National Parks of New York Harbor, I would like to offer the donation of all flags placed on the flagstaff by the NPS to the New York City Parks Department. You are welcome to fly them or exchange them as you see fit. We will remove and keep an NPS banner that was placed on the pole.

We are deeply grateful for the City's cooperation during the designation of Stonewall National Monument and I want to thank you personally for your support and for the ongoing assistance of the Parks Department during the past year. We look forward to working with you under our Cooperative Management Agreement in the times ahead.

Your acknowledgement of this donation will immediately effect the transfer of ownership of these flags. Please do not hesitate to call me with any questions.

Sincerely,
Joshua Laird

The parade went extremely well our NPS contingent was very warmly received throughout the march, but never more so than when stopped in front of Stonewall. See attached (although the image only includes about half our group- the rest were shaking hands with folks in the crowd).

- We currently have 22 RSVPs from NPS employees. Our instructions are that any employee with permission from their supervisor to march while on-duty should be in uniform. That appears to be everyone (off-duty employees are also invited, but cannot be in uniform). We are also expecting a handful of volunteers.
- The group is marching behind a brown NPS banner that says "National Park Service" and has an arrowhead on one side.
- The event is heavily covered by local, national and international media. We are listed in the parade guide, but have received no inquiries about our participation.
- We marched with a slightly smaller group last year.

One correction: I just learned that our Manhattan staff ordered a new banner that reads "Stonewall National Monument/National Park Service." It has 2 arrowheads and a narrow rainbow strip at the top. You can see the layout in the attached image.

The parade went extremely well our NPS contingent was very warmly received throughout the march, but never more so than when stopped in front of Stonewall. See attached (although the image only includes about half our group- the rest were shaking hands with folks in the crowd).

The parade went extremely well our NPS contingent was very warmly received throughout the march, but never more so than when stopped in front of Stonewall. See attached (although the image only includes about half our group- the rest were shaking hands with folks in the crowd).

- We marched with a slightly smaller group last year.

Thanks. The park is Tweeting about it. I've seen some other Pride related posts from parks over the past week and there hasn't been any negative reactions to them that I've seen/heard.

Mike,

As I mentioned, the NPS has a reserved marching slot in this Sunday's NYC Pride March, which was offered by the organizers in recognition of our management of Stonewall National Monument.

- We currently have 22 RSVPs from NPS employees. Our instructions are that any employee with permission from their supervisor to march while on-duty should be in uniform. That appears to be everyone (off-duty employees are also invited, but cannot be in uniform). We are also expecting a handful of volunteers.
- The group is marching behind a brown NPS banner that says "National Park Service" and has an arrowhead on one side.
- The event is heavily covered by local, national and international media. We are listed in the parade guide, but have received no inquiries about our participation.
- We marched with a slightly smaller group last year.

Let me know if you have any additional questions,

One correction: I just learned that our Manhattan staff ordered a new banner that reads "Stonewall National Monument/National Park Service." It has 2 arrowheads and a narrow rainbow strip at the top. You can see the layout in the attached image.

The parade went extremely well our NPS contingent was very warmly received throughout the march, but never more so than when stopped in front of Stonewall. See attached (although the image only includes about half our group- the rest were shaking hands with folks in the crowd).

- The group is marching behind a brown NPS banner that says "National Park Service" and has an arrowhead on one side.
- The event is heavily covered by local, national and international media. We are listed in the parade guide, but have received no inquiries about our participation.
- We marched with a slightly smaller group last year.

Good morning,
This morning, NPF also let me know that in addition to the Google announcement for Stonewall coming on Sunday, the Foundation is also planning to announce a grant for Stonewall from American Express this week on Thursday. That press release is attached.
I am expecting to receive the communications plan and press release for the Google announcement soon and will forward it once I receive it.
Please let me know if you have any questions.
All the best,

April

Hi,

Good news to start Pride Month! I just received word that Google has approved the grant request for Stonewall! We're awaiting official paperwork, but this will be a $1 million combined grant to the LGBT Center with $250,000 allocated to NPF for curriculum and education program development. The Center will be using their funding for community outreach and the development of digital platforms to help tell the story of Stonewall to new audiences at the local, national, and global level.

Thank you, Jeff and Joshua, for joining me in the meeting with Google last month to demonstrate the significance of Stonewall National Monument as a new site in the national park system, and to show the strength of our partnership. Shirley, thank you so much for working with the NPF team to articulate the educational programming needs and to help answer many repeated rounds of questions from Google. We really appreciate it!

I will let everyone know once it's official with the paperwork in hand, and our team will work with NPS and NPF Comms on the announcement strategy. Google had a strong interest in tying this announcement to their Pride activities later this month, so we will likely be sharing the good news very soon.

Thanks everyone!

Hi,

Good news to start Pride Month! I just received word that Google has approved the grant request for Stonewall! We're awaiting official paperwork, but this will be a $1 million combined grant to the LGBT Center with $250,000 allocated to NPF for curriculum and education program development. The Center will be using their funding for community outreach and the development of digital platforms to help tell the story of Stonewall to new audiences at the local, national, and global level.

Thank you, Jeff and Joshua, for joining me in the meeting with Google last month to demonstrate the significance of Stonewall National Monument as a new site in the national park system, and to show the strength of our partnership. Shirley, thank you so much for working with the NPF team to articulate the educational programming needs and to help answer many repeated rounds of questions from Google. We really appreciate it!

I will let everyone know once it's official with the paperwork in hand, and our team will work with NPS and NPF Comms on the announcement strategy. Google had a strong interest in tying this announcement to their Pride activities later this month, so we will likely be sharing the good news very soon.

Thanks everyone!

Hi,

Good news to start Pride Month! I just received word that Google has approved the grant request for Stonewall! We're awaiting official paperwork, but this will be a $1 million combined grant to the LGBT Center with $250,000 allocated to NPF for curriculum and education program development. The Center will be using their funding for community outreach and the development of digital platforms to help tell the story of Stonewall to new audiences at the local, national, and global level.

Thank you, Jeff and Joshua, for joining me in the meeting with Google last month to demonstrate the significance of Stonewall National Monument as a new site in the national park system, and to show the strength of our partnership. Shirley, thank you so much for working with the NPF team to articulate the educational programming needs and to help answer many repeated rounds of questions from Google. We really appreciate it!

I will let everyone know once it's official with the paperwork in hand, and our team will work with NPS and NPF Comms on the announcement strategy. Google had a strong interest in tying this announcement to their Pride activities later this month, so we will likely be sharing the good news very soon.

Thanks everyone!

Hi, Ann.

I want to make sure that the left hand knows what the right hand is doing.

We have organized a meeting tomorrow with leadership from Dominion, NPS and FWS to discuss the ACP, to identify and resolve any outstanding issues and try to identify a path forward as soon as possible.

I'm attaching a briefing paper from NPS (prepared yesterday) stating that NPS is preparing the required Categorical Exclusion under NEPA and confirming that NPS compliance will be completed within the required 90-day window in the FERC process.

I just received a call from Dominion advising that the DOI Solicitor's office has signaled that there may be some obstacles that had not been previously identified that would preclude preparation of the Categorical Exclusion.

Can you please follow up with me at your earliest convenience to let me know whether that is accurate?

My apologies for the late notice but given the visibility of this project, please let me know whether you can participate in the meeting tomorrow.

Many thanks,
Virginia

Just FYI - There's a large protest planned at STON tomorrow - apparently they're expecting thousands. Not sure how that will work logistically at such a small site. Just wanted to make sure you knew about it.

He was ok with us donating all flags except NPS to the city should desire to fly them on their property. We have communicated the order to Joshua and Gay. Needless to say there is significant concern on how this will transpire with the community. Once the job is complete Comms will issue a statement.

I explained over the phone that we are still trying to get clarification and that we, the NPS, may not have jurisdiction of that pole. He has requested a written response regarding this matter, along with the "regulation" as to why we can or cannot fulfill his request. He also stated that he's gone back & forth with NYC Parks over this question.

Please let me know if there are any steps I can take to help with this matter.

Thank you,
Jamie

Greetings Barbara

Please see the enclosed PPA for new outdoor USA and Rainbow Flags for Christopher Park's flag pole.

We didn't have any luck finding a supplier on GSA Advantage, is there a specific vendor you could recommend for DOI and NPS flags?

Once these flags arrive we can arrange with the contractor Danny Prebutt suggested to install them.

Thank you,

Hello Minerva Anderson and Jamie Grant,

I appreciate receiving this note and look forward to receive responsive public records.

Allow me to introduce you to a few New York City LGBT friends and longtime activists who are interested in collaborating with NPS, to stage a small ceremony at the Stonewall National Monument flagstaff when the rainbow flag is raised for its historical first occasion.

Are you receptive to working with us in partnership?

I hope we move toward the same goals of duly acknowledging the NPS role in responding to local community concerns and giving the gays the chance to stand with pride as their rainbow flag goes on display on this vital piece of federal land.

At minimum, I believe a few speakers making remarks before the flag is raised and small crowd is present to celebrate, along with a few cameras to record it all, is called for and easy to accomplish. Do you agree?

Let's discuss how to partner together in the next steps, after you have purchased the rainbow flag that will soon blow in the wind at Christoper Park.

Please hit reply to all and clue us in. Thanks!

Best,
Michael Petrelis

Mr. Petrelis

It was nice speaking with you this afternoon. The rainbow flags are 3 feet by 5 feet. Please have your New York friends contact me either by phone or email so we can coordinate with them regarding the flag raising. I think we should have a few days notice with the flag pole vendor but it would be nice to see if we can find dates that would work for your friends if possible. Most likely it will need to be during the week,

Barbara

Subject:	Statement--Flagpole Phone Call
Date:	Wednesday, August 02, 2017 4:55:05 PM

From what I recall:

Michael Petrelis contacted the Stonewall National Monument phone number on June 22nd, 2017, at approximately 2:45 p.m.

I do not recall the entire conversation, but I remember that he expressed an interest in having the rainbow flag flown from the flagpole at Christopher Park. He asked for clarification regarding the jurisdiction of the flagpole. He wanted to know if the National Park Service was in control of the flagpole, and I explained that I did not know for sure, but that I would look into it and see what could be done. We talked about the actual boundary of Stonewall National Monument, and I told him I'd send him an image of the monument land on a map. At one point, he asked for a copy of the regulations concerning the jurisdiction of the flagpole. I then told him that I would pass his message along to my supervisor, which I sent via email, immediately after the phone call.

From the email that I wrote after that phone call:
"I explained over the phone that we are still trying to get clarification and that we, the NPS, may not have jurisdiction of that pole. He has requested a written response regarding this matter, along with the 'regulation' as to why we can or cannot fulfill his request.
He also stated that he's gone back & forth with NYC Parks over this question."

Hello Barbara and Shirley,

Thanks for having your assistant Paula call me today regarding conference call to plan a rainbow flag raising ceremony.

I've proposed we speak tomorrow, Wednesday, at 3 pm your time, to discuss matters.

My colleague and friend in Manhattan who will be coordinating activists for our ceremony at Christopher Park, is copied on this note and will be able to join our call, if we agree to to for tomorrow.

Fyi, we're proposing the ceremony take place on Wednesday, October 11, which is the 30th anniversary of the LGBT March on Washington in 1987, an event that took place on NPS land in the District of Columbia and launched the AIDS Quilt, greatly expanded ACT UP and led to National Coming Out Day.

We believe our small ceremony at the Stonewall National Monument on October 11th would feed two birds with one seed. It would celebrate the flying of the rainbow colors at this location and also remind the gay community and everyone of the three decades of change since the March on Washington.

Let's discuss all of this soon on the telephone.

Best regards,
Michael

Good Morning,

I did not confirm meeting with him. I told him I will call him back.

and led to National Coming Out Day.

We believe our small ceremony at the Stonewall National Monument on October 11th would feed two birds with one seed. It would celebrate the flying of the rainbow colors at this location and also remind the gay community and everyone of the three decades of change since the March on Washington.

Let's discuss all of this soon on the telephone.

To be clear, and in writing, we are all working toward a rainbow flag raising ceremony on a small scale on Wednesday, October 11th starting at noon, and we can ask folks to save the date, right?

Ken will be in touch about a walk-through with you when he's back in the City.

Queer cheers,

Michael and Ken,

Good morning it was nice talking with you yesterday. Attached you will find the Stonewall National Monument permit application. The Superintendent is waiving the fees associated with Special Park Uses for this event.

Due to the configuration of the flag pole the park will also pay for the vendor to install the flags.

See below for the link to the National Park Service LGBTQ Theme Study.

https://www.nps.gov/subjects/tellingallamericansstories/lgbtqthemestudy.htm

I would recommend a permit walk through please contact me at and I can set something up.

Have a great day.

Barbara

Superintendent's Compendium

Of Designations, Closures, Permit Requirements and Other Restrictions Imposed Under Discretionary Authority.

Superintendent _____ Date _____

In accordance with regulations and the delegated authority provided in Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations ("36 CFR"), Chapter 1, Parts 1-7, authorized by Title 16 United States Code, Section 3, the following provisions apply to all lands and waters administered by the National Park Service, within the boundaries of AFRICAN BURIAL GROUND NATIONAL MONUMENT. Unless otherwise stated, these regulatory provisions apply in addition to the requirements contained in 36 CFR, Chapter 1, parts 1-7.

Written determinations, which explain the reasoning behind the Superintendent's use of discretionary authority, as required by Section 1.5(c), appear in this document identified by italicized print.

36 CFR § 1.5 – VISITING HOURS, PUBLIC USE LIMITS, CLOSURES, AND AREA DESIGNATIONS FOR SPECIFIC USES OR ACTIVITIES

(a)(1) The following visiting hours, public use limits, and closures are established:

Visiting Hours:

- Christopher Park at the Stonewall National Monument is open as scheduled and posted at the park site and/or through press releases and the park public website www.nps.gov/ston
- Stonewall National Monument outdoor grounds open (weather permitting) :
  - Sunrise to gate closing at sunset.
- Christopher Park grounds are also closed on The Sunday of New York Pride weekend.
- The park superintendent may close park facilities due to severe weather or emergencies on an as needed basis. These closures will be posted at the site and/or on the public park website, www.nps.gov/ston

These visiting hours were determined to be in the best interests of the park and are necessary for the proper management of the park. All portions of the park will be closed when it is necessary to protect the public from unsafe conditions or to protect the park resources from irreversible damage.

Public Use Limits – Pursuant to § 1.5(d) to implement a public use limit, the Superintendent may establish a permit, registration, or reservations system:

- No parcel, container, package, bundle or other property shall be placed or stored on or along any park fence, hand railing,or barrier.
- Personal property larger than 22 inches by 14 inches by 9 nine inches is proh bited in the Park area. This restriction is based on the generally accepted airline carry-on standards.
- Items, including signs and pictures, cannot be attached to or otherwise left on park structures, including trees, except by permit. See also 36 CFR § 2.1.

Comment [SG1]: This could potentially be a learning curve for STON visitors. Visitors have on long tradition, left tea candles, photos, beads etc at the foot of the Gay Liberation Monument.

No signs or placards shall be permitted in the park area except those made of cardboard, poster board, plastic or cloth having dimensions no greater than three feet in width, four feet in length and one quarter inch in thickness. No supports shall be permitted for signs or placards.

c. No signs or placards shall be attached, placed upon on steps or leaned against the flagpole, railings or the Gay ~~Rights Memorial~~L beration Monument.

- Park quiet hours are established as between the times when park gates are closed and opened.
- Media players, including radios, CD players, MP3 players, televisions, and computers, may only be used with headphones.
- Segway's or similar motorized devices cannot be used in the park, except by individuals with documented disabilities related to mobility.
- Flowers (no more than two flowers per person) may be left on the site, and only at the statues.
- Bicycles and other items are prohibited from being attached to the fence and any other objects within the NPS property.
- Unmanned Aircrafts

These conditions have been established to protect park resources, ensure visitor safety, and promote the peaceful enjoyment of the park which is located in a congested, heavily trafficked, urban setting. Additionally, these conditions are designed to achieve the park 's objective of commemorating the LGBT Civil Rights movement.

Closures:

The park is designated as closed to the following activities, for which a permit will not be issued:

- The fenced in garden areas of Christopher Park are closed to the public.
- Camping, as defined by 36 CFR 1.4(a) as the erecting of a tent or shelter or natural of natural or synthetic material, preparing a sleeping bag or other bedding material for use, parking of a motor vehicle, motor home or trailer,
- Explosives
- Aircraft

use

- Snowmobile use
- Residing on Federal Lands
- Sacrificing or leaving animals or their remains
- Rubbings on any surface within the Memorial
- Use of Motor Vehicles
- Kite flying, ball playing, flying disc ("Frisbee®") throwing, and similar recreational activities
- Still photography of security features or fixtures outside of the National Memorial
- Bicycle use
- Skating, Skateboards and similar devices

When necessary to protect park visitors from unsafe conditions or to protect park resources, all or portions of the park will be closed on a temporary basis. Signs will be posted to announce such temporary closures.

These conditions have been established to protect park resources, ensure visitor safety, and promote the peaceful enjoyment of the park which is located in a congested, heavily trafficked, urban setting. Additionally , these conditions are designed to achieve the park 's objectives of commemorating the LGBT Civil Rights movement. These closures are the minimum restrictions necessary to achieve such protection.

Dear Shirley and Barbara,

I hope that your week is going well. I'm just touching base to identify a good time for our site walk-through. I am available either Monday or Wednesday next week. Are there times those days that work better for you? I think it would be ideal to go there at noon so we can get a sense of the traffic patterns, etc at the time we're planning the event; if we do that, Monday would be preferable for me.

Once again, many thanks.

Thanks much for the docs, which I've printed, and the link to the voluminous study. Glad we had the call yesterday and it went very

To be clear, and in writing, we are all working toward a rainbow flag raising ceremony on a small scale on Wednesday, October 11th starting at noon, and we can ask folks to save the date, right?

Ken will be in touch about a walk-through with you when he's back in the City.

Queer cheers,

Michael and Ken,

Good morning it was nice talking with you yesterday. Attached you will find the Stonewall National Monument permit application. The Superintendent is waiving the fees associated with Special Park Uses for this event.

Due to the configuration of the flag pole the park will also pay for the vendor to install the flags.

See below for the link to the National Park Service LGBTQ Theme Study.

I would recommend a permit walk through please contact me at and I can set something up.

Have a great day.

I hope that your week is going well. I'm just touching base to identify a good time for our site walk-through. I am available either Monday or Wednesday next week. Are there times those days that work better for you? I think it would be ideal to go there at noon so we can get a sense of the traffic patterns, etc at the time we're planning the event; if we do that, Monday would be preferable for me.

Once again, many thanks.

All best,

Michael and Ken,

Good morning it was nice talking with you yesterday. Attached you will find the Stonewall National Monument permit application. The Superintendent is waiving the fees associated with Special Park Uses for this event.

Due to the configuration of the flag pole the park will also pay for the vendor to install the flags.

See below for the link to the National Park Service LGBTQ Theme Study.

I would recommend a permit walk through please contact me at and I can set something up.

Have a great day.

Barbara

Hi

Did Ken send in the draft for the run of show/agenda? I have not seen it to incorporate it into the permit. I will check with our facility staff on the sources for electricity within the park to see if it has been identified. Also, we need the certificate of liability insurance.

The NPS will pay for the installation of the flag.

I have cc Hector Fonseca Facility Manager and Edwin Roman, Facility Supervisor so that they can advise us on the where the electrical sources are located within the park for the NPS sound system.

We look forward to working with you, Scott and Michael on this event. If you have any questions, please contact us. Thank you.

In accordance with regulations and the delegated authority provided in Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations ("36 CFR"), Chapter 1, Parts 1-7, authorized by Title 16 United States Code, Section 3, the following provisions apply to all lands and waters administered by the National Park Service, within the boundaries of AFRICAN BURIAL GROUND NATIONAL MONUMENT. Unless otherwise stated, these regulatory provisions apply in addition to the requirements contained in 36 CFR, Chapter 1, parts 1-7.

Written determinations, which explain the reasoning behind the Superintendent's use of discretionary authority, as required by Section 1.5(c), appear in this document identified by italicized print.

36 CFR § 1.5 – VISITING HOURS, PUBLIC USE LIMITS, CLOSURES, AND AREA DESIGNATIONS FOR SPECIFIC USES OR ACTIVITIES

(a)(1) The following visiting hours, public use limits, and closures are established:

Visiting Hours:

These visiting hours were determined to be in the best interests of the park and are necessary for the proper management of the park. All portions of the park will be closed when it is necessary to protect the public from unsafe conditions or to protect the park resources from irreversible damage.

Public Use Limits -- Pursuant to § 1.S(d) to implement a public use limit, the Superintendent may establish a permit registration or reservations system:

- No parcel, container, package, bundle or other property shall be placed or stored on or along any park fence, hand railing, or barrier.
- Personal property larger than 22 inches by 14 inches by 9 nine inches is prohibited in the Park area. This restriction is based on the generally accepted airline carry-on standards.
- Items, including signs and pictures, cannot be attached to or otherwise left on park structures, including trees, except by permit. See also 36 CFR § 2.1.

No signs or placards shall be permitted in the park area except those made of cardboard, poster board, plastic or cloth having dimensions no greater than three feet in width, four feet in length and one quarter inch in thickness. No supports shall be permitted for signs or placards.

- o Bicycles and other items are prohibited from being attached to the fence and any other objects within the NPS property.
- o Unmanned Aircrafts

These conditions have been established to protect park resources, ensure visitor safety, and promote the peaceful enjoyment of the park which is located in a congested, heavily trafficked, urban setting. Additionally, these conditions are designed to achieve the park's objective of commemorating the LGBT Civil Rights movement.

Closures:

The park is designated as closed to the following activities, for which a permit will not be issued:

- o The fenced in garden areas of Christopher Park are closed to the public.
- o Camping, as defined by 36 CFR 1.4(a) as the erecting of a tent or shelter or natural of natural or synthetic material, preparing a sleeping bag or other bedding material for use, parking of a motor vehicle, motor home or trailer,

Additionally, these conditions are designed to achieve the park's objectives of commemorating the LGBT Civil Rights movement. These closures are the minimum restrictions necessary to achieve such protection.

- Stonewall Flagpole at Christopher and Grove Streets.

These conditions have been established to allow park visitors to exercise their First Amendment rights while also protecting the safety of visitors and demonstrators. These conditions are designed to ensure that the park area can be safely travelled without obstructions to walkways that could result in injury and to facilitate the proper management of the park area which is located in a congested, heavily trafficked, urban setting. What better way to spend this Sunday, with San Francisco enduring a real heatwave, then to think about what we'll be doing together on a cool (hope so) day about a month away!

Queer cheers,

Good Afternoon Keith and Scott:

Thank you for making time to meet with us. It was a pleasure meeting both of you. To recap some of the thoughts at today's walk through at Stonewall NM the following was discussed:

You will provide a draft run of show/agenda which would include the marching band and a guest singer.

Your request to have an NPS official make the welcome remarks will be addressed with the superintendent.

The NPS will provide our in-house sound system and set it up for the event.
The NPS will set up the flag a couple of days before the actual event date.
The NPS will pay for the installation of the flag.

I have cc Hector Fonseca Facility Manager and Edwin Roman, Facility Supervisor so that they can advise us on the where the electrical sources are located within the park for the NPS sound system.

We look forward to working with you, Scott and Michael on this event. If you have any questions, please contact us. Thank you.

Planning to arrive either 10/9 or 10/10, depending on flights and fares.

It's also time for me to put ideas in writing to share with Ken Kidd, regarding what I'd like to see on October 11th.

What better way to spend this Sunday, with San Francisco enduring a real heatwave, then to think about what we'll be doing together on a cool (hope so) day about a month away!

Queer cheers,
Michael

Good Afternoon Keith and Scott:

Thank you for making time to meet with us. It was a pleasure meeting both of you. To recap some of the thoughts at today's walk through at Stonewall NM the following was discussed:

You will provide a draft run of show/agenda which would include the marching band and a guest singer.

Your request to have an NPS official make the welcome remarks will be addressed with the superintendent.

The NPS will provide our in-house sound system and set it up for the event.
The NPS will set up the flag a couple of days before the actual event date.
The NPS will pay for the installation of the flag.

I have cc Hector Fonseca Facility Manager and Edwin Roman, Facility Supervisor so that they can advise us on the where the electrical sources are located within the park for the NPS sound system.

We look forward to working with you, Scott and Michael on this event. If you have any questions, please contact us. Thank you.

Hi Barbara,

Thanks for the info and sorry the insurance requirement can't be waived. Will check in with Ken and put time in today on seeing who in NYC can assist us with getting the necessary insurance and paying for it.

Michael

All permits require insurance. Usually people contact their renters or homeowners insurance and get a one day certificate. Usually not very expensive. I am not available this afternoon today at 5 pm eastern time. .

I am not authorized to waive insurance. Insurance is a requirement for all events. You need to speak to Barbara directly on this, she will be back in the office on Monday.

I just left you a voice message on your cell... Who is the flag contractor? We need to get the flag installation confirmed ASAP...

Do you have the rainbow flag that is replacing the NYC Parks flag and do you have a DOI flag same size as rainbow flag that will replace the NY State flag? Are you raising both at the same time with this contractor.

Finally, there is no electric to support our system... What other options did you offer the permittee?

Barbara,

What's the story with the installation, I thought you told me yesterday you had a contractor that would install the flags. I asked Migdalia had she knew nothing about it. Shirley suggested we get it installed ASAP instead of waiting for the last minute. Let me know if you need me to do anything to have this done.

Thanks,

What ever is easier for you. If you can send it to our shop that would be great because we can just head straight there and take care of it instead of having to coordinate with other people.

Good Morning,

Thanks for your note. I was with the platform party at the Memorial Vigil for Edie Windsor Wednesday evening about two weeks ago--which was lovely, so thank you to NPS!--that happened in the Park there at Stonewall Place. The location for the audio/mic was exactly where we had discussed the program happening, and there was a plugged in system. Do we know/can we find out where that system plugged in?

I really do appreciate all your help with this. On a related question, I wondered whether, for the press release and the program, would National Parks Service like to be referred to as a co-sponsor or co-presenter of the unveiling/dedication on October 11? You certainly have been wonderful partners on this and, after all, you have graciously waived the permit filing fee, the cost of thte flagpole rigging, and the audio system. Just let me know.

Many thanks, and all best,

Ken Kidd

Thank you for making time to meet with us. It was a pleasure meeting both of you. To recap some of the thoughts at today's walk through at Stonewall NM the following was discussed:

You will provide a draft run of show/agenda which would include the marching band and a guest singer.

Your request to have an NPS official make the welcome remarks will be addressed with the superintendent.

The NPS will provide our in-house sound system and set it up for the event.
The NPS will set up the flag a couple of days before the actual event date.
The NPS will pay for the installation of the flag.

I have cc Hector Fonseca Facility Manager and Edwin Roman, Facility Supervisor so that they can advise us on the where the electrical sources are located within the park for the NPS sound system.

We look forward to working with you, Scott and Michael on this event. If you have any questions, please contact us. Thank you.

Good Afternoon Keith and Scott:

Thank you for making time to meet with us. It was a pleasure meeting both of you. To recap some of the thoughts at today's walk through at Stonewall NM the following was discussed:

You will provide a draft run of show/agenda which would include the marching band and a guest singer.

Your request to have an NPS official make the welcome remarks will be addressed with the superintendent.

The NPS will provide our in-house sound system and set it up for the event.
The NPS will set up the flag a couple of days before the actual event date.
The NPS will pay for the installation of the flag.

I have cc Hector Fonseca Facility Manager and Edwin Roman, Facility Supervisor so that they can advise us on the where the electrical sources are located within the park for the NPS sound system.

We look forward to working with you, Scott and Michael on this event. If you have any questions, please contact us. Thank you.

Good Morning,

Thanks for your note. I was with the platform party at the Memorial Vigil for Edie Windsor Wednesday evening about two weeks ago--which was lovely, so thank you to NPS!--that happened in the Park there at Stonewall Place. The location for the audio/mic was exactly where we had discussed the program happening, and there was a plugged in system. Do we know/can we find out where that system plugged in?

I really do appreciate all your help with this. On a related question, I wondered whether, for the press release and the program, would National Parks Service like to be referred to as a co-sponsor or co-presenter of the unveiling/dedication on October 11? You certainly have been wonderful partners on this and, after all, you have graciously waived the permit filing fee, the cost of thte flagpole rigging, and the audio system. Just let me know.

Many thanks, and all best,

Ken Kidd

All permits require insurance. Usually people contact their renters or homeowners insurance and get a one day certificate. Usually not very expensive. I am not available this afternoon today at 5 pm eastern time. .

It's also time for me to put ideas in writing to share with Ken Kidd, regarding what I'd like to see on October 11th.

What better way to spend this Sunday, with San Francisco enduring a real heatwave, then to think about what we'll be doing together on a cool (hope so) day about a month away!

Queer cheers,

Good Afternoon Keith and Scott:

Thank you for making time to meet with us. It was a pleasure meeting both of you. To recap some of the thoughts at today's walk through at Stonewall NM the following was discussed:

You will provide a draft run of show/agenda which would include the marching band and a guest singer.

Your request to have an NPS official make the welcome remarks will be addressed with the superintendent.

The NPS will provide our in-house sound system and set it up for the event.
The NPS will set up the flag a couple of days before the actual event date.
The NPS will pay for the installation of the flag.

I have cc Hector Fonseca Facility Manager and Edwin Roman, Facility Supervisor so that they can advise us on the where the electrical sources are located within the park for the NPS sound system.

We look forward to working with you, Scott and Michael on this event. If you have any questions, please contact us. Thank you.

Good Morning,

Thanks for your note. I was with the platform party at the Memorial Vigil for Edie Windsor Wednesday evening about two weeks ago--which was lovely, so thank you to NPS!--that happened in the Park there at Stonewall Place. The location for the audio/mic was exactly where we had discussed the program happening, and there was a plugged in system. Do we know/can we find out where that system plugged in?

I really do appreciate all your help with this. On a related question, I wondered whether, for the press release and the program, would National Parks Service like to be referred to as a co-sponsor or co-presenter of the unveiling/dedication on October 11? You certainly have been wonderful partners on this and, after all, you have graciously waived the permit filing fee, the cost of thte flagpole rigging, and the audio system. Just let me know.

Many thanks, and all best,

Ken Kidd

Michael

All permits require insurance. Usually people contact their renters or homeowners insurance and get a one day certificate. Usually not very expensive. I am not available this afternoon today at 5 pm eastern time. .

I am not authorized to waive insurance. Insurance is a requirement for all events. You need to speak to Barbara directly on this, she will be back in the office on Monday.

Good Morning!

Thank you for all you are doing to partner with us on this. I'm on my way now to Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS who will issue the insurance rider on their insurance. I want to get it right. Is the temporary liability amount $1M and could you please let me know exactly what I should put (address, etc) for NPS on the form?

Again, my very best to you.

Hi Barbara,

Thanks for the info and getting the rainbow flag up. Keeping my hopes up that it being on display now doesn't attract much attention. I'm pleased to let you know Ken has coordinated with the good folks at Broadway Cares, especially the wonderful director Tom Viola, and the liability insurance problem is solved. And I look forward to shaking your hand at the Stonewall National Monument a week from tomorrow.

Queer cheers,

The flag pole ropes are difficult to access and we had to take advantage of the opportunity to get the flags up. We didn't want to take the risk that they wouldn't be up on October 11. Flag rope mechanism is 9 feet off the ground.

Hope you understand. Better earlier than not on October 11. Look forward to meeting you in person in a couple of weeks.

Hello,

Attached please find the executed Insurance rider for our event on Wednesday, October 11.

On a related matter, we would of course, love for one of you to offer a greeting from Parks. I'm guesstimating a two minute or so spot on the under -30 minute program.

Can you let me know who would like to take the spot and provide a two or three sentence intro?

Many thanks, and all the very best,

Ken Kidd

Looks like this already ran, but still worth getting the ground truth as no one from NPS is quoted. I was in meetings all day and didn't see this until late.

When I called Barbara about this Inquiry last night she said the Flag was already flying but the press release wasn't going out until Oct. 11? Were you aware that the Flag was flying already at Stonewall? I had no idea about the raising of the Flag or the press release.

Pride flag briefing statement.pdf

From: Warren, John
To: Mindy (Minerva) Anderson
Cc: Jane Ahern
Subject: Pride flag briefing statement
Date: Friday, October 06, 2017 6:48:01 AM

Thanks, Mindy, for taking my call this morning about a briefing statement for the LGBT Pride Flag at Stonewall National Monument.

I spoke with Jeremy Barnum this morning about the article. We agreed that, if the article is factual, then there is no need to contact the reporter. I see nothing factually wrong or egregious about the article, but I defer to the people who work at NPNH and STON about that.

The briefing statement will not only keep our regional leaders in the loop, but will be useful if and when questions come from a higher level.

Some things that should be addressed in the briefing statement:

- What's taking place on October 11 (this Wednesday)? Who will be there?
- What is the NPS relationship with the people in the article?
- Mention that a pride flag is already there. (By the way, if you need a larger pride flag, I'll mail you mine. It would be an honor to have it fly there. I believe it's the size you need.)
- Will the flag fly continuously or only for special days like National Coming Out Day?
- Describe the flagpole and the position of the pride flag! Flag protocol is important as you, Mindy, know very well from your years in the military. It is significant that the flagpole in Christopher Park is a nautical flagpole, like the ones in other city parks in NYC. (I made sure to tell this to Jeremy on the phone this morning.) I assume that the pride flag will fly at one of the two angled positions, with the American flag at the top of the center pole. No one is replacing or usurping the American flag. Let's make that clear. (I probably used more words there than you will need to describe the flag and flagpole.)
- Please send the draft PR, if possible, as well.

Dear Mr. Petrelis,

I am writing in response to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request dated July 21, 2017 and received in this office on July 21, 2017. In your request you sought documents regarding the flagpole at Stonewall National Monument, located in near Christopher Park at West 4th Street, New York, NY 10014.

In response to your request, we have located 14 email documents and 2 Department of Interior documents pertaining to the department's policy for displaying and flying the U.S. flag and authorized flags representing the department. These records are being released in their entirety and the fees associated with the processing are waived.

Finally, your July 28, 2017 email request to Park Ranger Jamie Adams regarding hosting a flag raising ceremony has been forwarded to me and I'd be delighted to discuss options with you. Please contact me at your earliest convenience at 212-825-6991 or you may email me at shirley_mckinney@nps.gov.

Thank you for your support of interest in Stonewall National Monument.

Sincerely,

Shirley McKinney

http://lgbtweekly.com/2017/10/05/rainbow-flag-to-fly-permanently-on-federal-land-in-new-york-city/

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The Rainbow Flag, the international symbol of LGBT liberation and pride, will be unveiled in a special ceremony Wednesday, Oct. 11 at 12 noon at the historic Stonewall National Monument, where, thanks to the efforts of activists, it will claim a permanent home.

This historic event marks the first time that the LGBT flag will wave over federally-funded land, under the permanent stewardship of the National Park Service.

Stonewall National Monument is located in Christopher Street Park in New York's Greenwich Village. The park is on the corner of Christopher Street and 7th Avenue South.

The event will be emceed by Gay USA television co-host Ann Northrop. Performers will include Telly Leung, who plays the title role in Disney's "Aladdin on Broadway" and Cantor Steve Zeidenberg of Congregation Beit Simchat Torah. Speakers will include Leslie Cagan, an organizer of the 1987 March on Washington for LGBT Rights, National Park Service's Chief of Interpretation, Education and Visitor Services Barbara Applebaum, Kiara St. James, Executive Director of New York Transgender Advocacy Group, and LGBT and AIDS activist Michael Petrelis who spearheaded this initiative.

"It is a victory for our community to have these symbolic colors flying majestically over our Stonewall, designated as a National Monument by President Obama, even as our LGBTQ brothers and sisters are under attack by the current regime in power," said Petrelis. He went on to say, "As we gather today, we are reminded of another October 11, thirty years ago, when the names of fallen comrades were symbollically celebrated on another national monument – the AIDS Quilt – during the reign of another President who waged and attack against us."

Oct. 11 marks the thirtieth anniversary of the historic 1987 March on Washington for Lesbian Gay Rights–when the NAMES Project AIDS Quilt was unfurled on the National Mall. The date also marks the annual National Coming Out Day, a day celebrating the idea that all members of the LGBTQ community should be able to live their lives openly, honestly, and with pride.

The flag, which was originally designed by the late artist and activist Gilbert Baker, consists of six stripes: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and violet. The flag is typically flown horizontally, with the red stripe on top, as would appear in a natural rainbow.

Support for the ceremony is being generously provided by Broadway Cares/Equity Fights

AIDS. Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS helps men, women and children across the country and across the street receive lifesaving medications, health care, nutritious meals, counseling and emergency financial assistance. broadwaycares.org

Gilbert Baker died in New York City on March 31 at the age of 65. Memorials to the internationally known activist were held across the globe in subsequent weeks.

The Stonewall Inn was added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1999

Oct. 11 marks the thirtieth anniversary of the historic 1987 March on Washington for Lesbian Gay Rights–when the NAMES Project AIDS Quilt was unfurled on the National Mall. It is significant that the flagpole in Christopher Park is a nautical flagpole, like the ones in other city parks in NYC. (I made sure to tell this to Jeremy on the phone this morning.) I assume that the pride flag will fly at one of the two angled positions, with the American flag at the top of the center pole. No one is replacing or usurping the American flag. Let's make that clear. (I probably used more words there than you will need to describe the flag and flagpole.)

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The Rainbow Flag, the international symbol of LGBT liberation and pride, will be unveiled in a special ceremony Wednesday, Oct. 11 at 12 noon at the historic Stonewall National Monument, where, thanks to the efforts of activists, it will claim a permanent home.

This historic event marks the first time that the LGBT flag will wave over federally-funded land, under the permanent stewardship of the National Park Service.

Stonewall National Monument is located in Christopher Street Park in New York's Greenwich Village. The park is on the corner of Christopher Street and 7th Avenue South.

The event will be emceed by Gay USA television co-host Ann Northrop. Performers will include Telly Leung, who plays the title role in Disney's "Aladdin on Broadway" and Cantor Steve Zeidenberg of Congregation Beit Simchat Torah. Speakers will include Leslie Cagan, an organizer of the 1987 March on Washington for LGBT Rights, National Park Service's Chief of Interpretation, Education and Visitor Services Barbara Applebaum, Kiara St. James, Executive Director of New York Transgender Advocacy Group, and LGBT and AIDS activist Michael Petrelis who spearheaded this initiative.

"It is a victory for our community to have these symbolic colors flying majestically over our Stonewall, designated as a National Monument by President Obama, even as our LGBTQ brothers and sisters are under attack by the current regime in power," said Petrelis. He went on to say, "As we gather today, we are reminded of another October 11, thirty years ago, when the names of fallen comrades were symbollically celebrated on another national monument – the AIDS Quilt – during the reign of another President who waged and attack against us."

Oct. 11 marks the thirtieth anniversary of the historic 1987 March on Washington for Lesbian Gay Rights–when the NAMES Project AIDS Quilt was unfurled on the National Mall. The date also marks the annual National Coming Out Day, a day celebrating the idea that all members of the LGBTQ community should be able to live their lives openly, honestly, and with pride.

The flag, which was originally designed by the late artist and activist Gilbert Baker, consists of six stripes: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and violet. The flag is typically flown horizontally, with the red stripe on top, as would appear in a natural rainbow.

Support for the ceremony is being generously provided by Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS. Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS helps men, women and children across the country and across the street receive lifesaving medications, health care, nutritious meals, counseling and emergency financial assistance. broadwaycares.org

FYI: I let Gay know that:

I asked for this from the park staff and NPNH Commissioner, first thing this morning. So, they are working on a briefing statement, and sharing a draft press release (as of the last email/call). Plan was to get it to you after Joshua reviewed. Also, I looped Cinda in first thing - so she knew we should add a short snippet for the Three Week Out, told her the other docs were in the works.

I will be SURE to share all of that info with you/Jeremy as soon as I have it. Let me know if you need anything right now. I expect to have the info any minute now.

Performers will include Telly Leung, who plays the title role in Disney's "Aladdin on Broadway" and Cantor Steve Zeidenberg of Congregation Beit Simchat Torah. Speakers will include Leslie Cagan, an organizer of the 1987 March on Washington for LGBT Rights, National Park Service's Chief of Interpretation, Education and Visitor Services Barbara Applebaum, Kiara St. James, Executive Director of New York Transgender Advocacy Group, and LGBT and AIDS activist Michael Petrelis who spearheaded this initiative.

"It is a victory for our community to have these symbolic colors flying majestically over our Stonewall, designated as a National Monument by President Obama, even as our LGBTQ brothers and sisters are under attack by the current regime in power," said Petrelis. He went on to say, "As we gather today, we are reminded of another October 11, thirty years ago, when the names of fallen comrades were symbollically celebrated on another national monument – the AIDS Quilt – during the reign of another President who waged and attack against us."

Oct. 11 marks the thirtieth anniversary of the historic 1987 March on Washington for Lesbian Gay Rights–when the NAMES Project AIDS Quilt was unfurled on the National Mall. The date also marks the annual National Coming Out Day, a day celebrating the idea that all members of the LGBTQ community should be able to live their lives openly, honestly, and with pride.

The flag, which was originally designed by the late artist and activist Gilbert Baker, consists of six stripes: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and violet. The flag is typically flown horizontally, with the red stripe on top, as would appear in a natural rainbow.

Support for the ceremony is being generously provided by Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS. Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS helps men, women and children across the country and across the street receive lifesaving medications, health care, nutritious meals, counseling and emergency financial assistance. broadwaycares.org

Gilbert Baker died in New York City on March 31 at the age of 65. Memorials to the internationally known activist were held across the globe in subsequent weeks.

The Stonewall Inn was added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1999

NEED THAT PHOTO of the FLAGS at St. Christopher Park ASAP - breathing down my neck at DOI. John Warren may have written you about this too - I checked the website and am not finding one. Will keep looking.

Rough draft Briefing Statement Stonewall Nati.pdf

Briefing Statement Stonewall National Monument Flagpole

Bureau: National Park Service

Issue: Rainbow Flag at Stonewall National Monument

Park: Stonewall National Monument

Key Points:

- Community members, visitors and other members of the public have frequently requested that we raise the rainbow flag.

- Park staff could not find any Federal or Departmental regulations concerning the flying of the rainbow flag.

- The Federally owned land at Stonewall National Monument was transferred to the Federal Government by the City of New York.

- The Site has an existing nautical style flag pole with yardarm. The United States Flag is on top. Underneath is a yardarm that held New York City, MIA/ POW and New York City Parks Flags.

- Stonewall National Monument replaced the New York City and New York City Parks flags with the National Park Service and rainbow flags.

- Due to community, veterans including LGBT veterans and New York City requests the MIA/POW flag remains.

- Due to the height of the lanyard which is 9 feet off the ground, we needed to install the flags when the people and equipment was available. Because of the lanyard height flags will remain up until they need replacement due to condition.

Background:

- Stonewall National Monument was proclaimed a National Monument in June 2016.

- The National Park Service is preparing a foundation document to guide planning and management of Stonewall National Monument. The first comment period for the foundation document runs from September 26, 2017 through October 26, 2017.

- The National Park Service has staffed the site for the past two summers. Community members, visitors and other members of the public have frequently requested that we raise the rainbow flag on the flag pole.

- The Federally owned land was transferred by the City of New York to the National Park Service. The City of New York and the National Park Service have a Cooperative Management Agreement. The City of New York maintains the site.

Current Status:

- Due to the 9 foot height of the lanyard the flags were installed on September 28, 2017.

- United States, National Park Service, MIA/POW and rainbow flags are all now installed.

- On October 11, 2017 a Special Park Use permit will be issued for a Coming Out Day rainbow flag commemoration.

- Some of the people in the article have a permit for the October 11 event and on July 21, 2017 one of requested all documents regarding the flagpole at Stonewall National Monument, located in near Christopher Park at West 4th Street, New York, NY 10014 via a Freedom of Information Act

Briefing Statement Stonewall National Monument Flagpole

Bureau: National Park Service
Issue: Rainbow Flag at Stonewall National Monument
Park: Stonewall National Monument

Key Points:

- Community members, visitors and other members of the public have frequently requested that we raise the rainbow flag.

- Park staff could not find any Federal or Departmental regulations concerning the flying of the rainbow flag.

- The land comprising Stonewall National Monument was previously a NYC municipal park (Christopher Park) that was donated/transferred to the federal government prior to designation.

- The Site has an existing nautical style flag pole with yardarm. The US flag is in the top, center position with the POW/MIA flag below it. A NYC Parks flag and NYC municipal flag on the yardarm ends were replaced with the rainbow flag and an NPS flag respectively.

- The POW/MIA flag, which was previously raised by the City in accordance with local law, has been left in place at the request of the City and in consideration of community and local veterans groups that value its presence.

- The bottom of the lanyard which is 9 feet off the ground, meaning it can only be accessed with a ladder or lift. The flags on the pole remain in place at all times and are raised/lowered only when they need replacement due to condition.

Background:

- Stonewall National Monument was designated a National Monument in June 2016.

- The National Park Service is preparing a foundation document to guide planning and management of Stonewall National Monument. The first comment period for the foundation document runs from September 26, 2017 through October 26, 2017.

- The National Park Service has staffed the site for the past two summers. Community members, visitors and other members of the public have frequently requested that we raise the rainbow flag on the flag pole.

- The Federally owned land was transferred by the City of New York to the National Park Service. The City of New York and the National Park Service have a Cooperative Management Agreement. The City of New York maintains the site.

Current Status:

- The flags currently flying (US, POW/MIA, rainbow and NPS) were installed on September 28, 2017.

- A Special Park Use permit has been requested and will be issued for a Coming Out Day rainbow flag commemoration to be held on October 11, 2017..

Good morning!

Jeremy Barnum and April Slayton in Washington just got off the phone with me. DOI wants to see the briefing statement that is already in the works. We've already been emailing and calling each other this morning to get this done. Since this is now a DOI request, it needs to be expedited even further.

I mentioned to Washington that the flagpole in question is a nautical flagpole. A photo of the flagpole as it is right now would help clarify things to DOI. What other flags are presently featured at Christopher Park?

Washington asked me about what ceremonies would take place October 11. Thanks to Joshua's email I could say that there are NO ceremonies planned at all by the NPS. Another organization might hold a ceremony there and could apply for a special use permit to do so.

DOI also wants to know the context of the decision to raise the flag. This is one of the bullets I sent to Mindy earlier but which I will copy here:

- Will the flag fly continuously or only for special days like National Coming Out Day?
- Describe the flagpole and the position of the pride flag! Flag protocol is important as you, Mindy, know very well from your years in the military. It is significant that the flagpole in Christopher Park is a nautical flagpole, like the ones in other city parks in NYC. (I made sure to tell this to Jeremy on the phone this morning.) As I was calling Joshua, this came in to him. He does not have the number for Mindy's assistant, who went out to take the photo. I left a message for Mindy to see if she could call Michael the intern so he could take more.

Note that my description was not entirely accurate, but close. The POW/MIA flag flies beneath the US flag on the main (center) pole, which is acceptable flag protocol. It's wrapped around the flagpole a bit so you have to look for it.

Key Points:

- Community members, visitors and other members of the public have frequently requested that we raise the rainbow flag.
- Park staff could not find any Federal or Departmental regulations concerning the flying of the rainbow flag.
- The land comprising Stonewall National Monument was previously a NYC municipal park (Christopher Park) that was donated/transferred to the federal government prior to designation.
- The Site has an existing nautical style flag pole with yardarm. The US flag is in the top, center position with the POW/MIA flag below it. A NYC Parks flag and NYC municipal flag on the yardarm ends were replaced with the rainbow flag and an NPS flag respectively.
- The POW/MIA flag, which was previously raised by the City in accordance with local law, has been left in place at the request of the City and in consideration of community and local veterans groups that value its presence.
- The bottom of the lanyard which is 9 feet off the ground, meaning it can only be accessed with a ladder or lift. The flags on the pole remain in place at all times and are raised/lowered only when they need replacement due to condition.

Background:

- Stonewall National Monument was designated a National Monument in June 2016.
- The National Park Service is preparing a foundation document to guide planning and management of Stonewall National Monument. The first comment period for the foundation document runs from September 26, 2017 through October 26, 2017.
- The National Park Service has staffed the site for the past two summers. Community members, visitors and other members of the public have frequently requested that we raise the rainbow flag on the flag pole.
- The Federally owned land was transferred by the City of New York to the National Park Service. The City of New York and the National Park Service have a Cooperative Management Agreement. The City of New York maintains the site.

Current Status:

- The flags currently flying (US, POW/MIA, rainbow and NPS) were installed on September 28, 2017.
- A Special Park Use permit has been requested and will be issued for a Coming Out Day rainbow flag commemoration to be held on October 11, 2017.

Stonewall Flags Briefing Statement 100617_1.pdf

Briefing Statement Stonewall National Monument Flagpole

Bureau: National Park Service
Issue: Rainbow Flag at Stonewall National Monument
Park: Stonewall National Monument

Key Points:

- Community members, visitors and other members of the public have frequently requested that we raise the rainbow flag at Stonewall National Monument.
- Park staff could not find any Federal or Departmental regulations concerning the flying of the rainbow flag.
- The land comprising Stonewall National Monument was previously a NYC municipal park (Christopher Park) that was donated/transferred to the federal government prior to designation.
- The site has an existing nautical style flagpole with yardarm. The US flag is in the top, center position with the POW/MIA flag below it. A NYC Parks Department flag and NYC municipal flag on the yardarm ends were replaced with the rainbow flag and an NPS flag respectively.
- The POW/MIA flag, which was previously raised by the City in accordance with local law, has been left in place at the request of the City and in consideration of community and local veterans groups that value its presence.
- The bottom of the lanyard is 9 feet off the ground, meaning it can only be accessed with a ladder or lift. The flags remain in place at all times and are raised/lowered only when in need of replacement due to condition.

Background:

- Stonewall National Monument was designated a National Monument in June 2016.
- The National Park Service is preparing a foundation document to guide planning and management of the site. The first comment period runs from September 26, 2017 through October 26, 2017.
- The National Park Service has staffed the site for the past two summers. Community members, visitors and other members of the public frequently request that we raise the rainbow flag on the flagpole.
- The City of New York and the National Park Service have a Cooperative Management Agreement. The NYC Parks Department supports the Monument by providing day-to-day maintenance.
- The flagpole was installed by the City in 1936 with a plaque dedicated to Ephraim Elmer Ellsworth, a New Yorker who was the first officer killed during the Civil War.

Current Status:

- The current arrangement of flags (US, POW/MIA, rainbow and NPS) has been in place since September 28, 2017.
- A Special Park Use permit has been requested and will be issued for a Coming Out Day rainbow flag commemoration to be held on October 11, 2017.

Stonewall Flags Briefing Statement 100617_2.pdf

Briefing Statement Stonewall National Monument Flagpole

Bureau: National Park Service
Issue: Rainbow Flag at Stonewall National Monument
Park: Stonewall National Monument

Key Points:

- Community members, visitors and other members of the public have frequently requested that we raise the rainbow flag at Stonewall National Monument (STON).
- The site has an existing nautical style flagpole with yardarm. The US flag is in the top, center position with the POW/MIA flag below it. A NYC Parks Department flag and NYC municipal flag on the yardarm ends were replaced with the rainbow flag and an NPS flag respectively.
- In deciding how to respond to community requests for the flag, the park consulted federal and Departmental flag codes. It was determined that there are no regulations that prevent the flying of the rainbow flag. This was an important factor in the Park's decision.
- On August 21, 2017, the Park received a permit application from Michael Petrelis for a First Amendment event to raise a rainbow flag in the park. Mr. Petrelis previously filed a FOIA request for documents relating to the Park's assessment of requests to raise a rainbow flag at STON.
- The Park determined that it would raise the rainbow flag itself, without a ceremony, in response to broader community requests. This was accomplished on September 28, 2017. Mr. Petrelis has therefore modified his proposed event to omit raising the flag. The current draft permit includes remarks and singing only.
- STON intends to issue a Special Park Use permit to Mr. Petrelis for an event on October 11, 2017, which coincides with National Coming Out Day.
- Park staff are typically assigned to monitor permitted events to make certain park resources are protected. While park representatives sometimes offer welcoming remarks to the attendees of a permitted event, the applicant has been informed that we will not be doing so on this occasion.

Background:

- STON was designated a National Monument in June 2016.
- The land comprising STON was previously a NYC municipal park (Christopher Park) that was donated/transferred to the federal government prior to designation.
- The flagpole is located in a portion of the park that is outside the area transferred to the federal government. However, it falls within the larger interpretive boundary included within the 2016 National Monument designation and is managed by the NPS along with the rest of Christopher Park (see attached NM and park survey maps).
- The National Park Service is preparing a foundation document to guide planning and management of the site. The first comment period runs from September 26, 2017 through October 26, 2017.
- The National Park Service has staffed the site for the past two summers. Community members, visitors and other members of the public frequently request that we raise the rainbow flag on the flagpole.

- The City of New York and the National Park Service have a Cooperative Management Agreement. The NYC Parks Department supports the Monument by providing day-to-day maintenance.
- The flagpole was installed by the City in 1936 with a plaque dedicated to Ephraim Elmer Ellsworth, a New Yorker who was the first officer killed during the Civil War.

Current Status:

- The POW/MIA flag, which was previously raised by the City in accordance with local law, was left in place at the request of the City and in consideration of community and local veterans groups that value its presence.
- The bottom of the lanyard is 9 feet off the ground, meaning it can only be accessed with a ladder or lift. The flags remain in place at all times and are raised/lowered only when in need of replacement due to condition.

Stonewall Flags Briefing Statement 100617_3.pdf

Briefing Statement Stonewall National Monument Flagpole

Bureau: National Park Service
Issue: Rainbow Flag at Stonewall National Monument
Park: Stonewall National Monument

Key Points:

- Community members, visitors and other members of the public have frequently requested that we raise the rainbow flag at Stonewall National Monument (STON).
- The site has an existing nautical style flagpole with yardarm. The US flag is in the top, center position with the POW/MIA flag below it. A NYC Parks Department flag and NYC municipal flag on the yardarm ends were replaced with the rainbow flag and an NPS flag respectively.
- In deciding how to respond to community requests for the flag, the park consulted federal and Departmental flag codes. It was determined that there are no regulations that prevent the flying of the rainbow flag. This was an important factor in the Park's decision.
- On August 21, 2017, the Park received a permit application from Michael Petrelis for a First Amendment event to raise a rainbow flag in the park. Mr. Petrelis previously filed a FOIA request for documents relating to the Park's assessment of requests to raise a rainbow flag at STON.
- The Park determined that it would raise the rainbow flag itself, without a ceremony, in response to broader community requests. This was accomplished on September 28, 2017. Mr. Petrelis has therefore modified his proposed event to omit raising the flag. The current draft permit includes remarks and singing only.
- STON intends to issue a Special Park Use permit to Mr. Petrelis for an event on October 11, 2017, which coincides with National Coming Out Day.
- Park staff are typically assigned to monitor permitted events to make certain park resources are protected. While park representatives sometimes offer welcoming remarks to the attendees of a permitted event, the applicant has been informed that we will not be doing so on this occasion.

Background:

- STON was designated a National Monument in June 2016.
- The land comprising STON was previously a NYC municipal park (Christopher Park) that was donated/transferred to the federal government prior to designation.
- The flagpole is located in a portion of the park that is outside the area transferred to the federal government. However, it falls within the larger interpretive boundary included within the 2016 National Monument designation and is managed by the NPS along with the rest of Christopher Park (see attached NM and park survey maps).
- The National Park Service is preparing a foundation document to guide planning and management of the site. The first comment period runs from September 26, 2017 through October 26, 2017.
- The National Park Service has staffed the site for the past two summers. Community members, visitors and other members of the public frequently request that we raise the rainbow flag on the flagpole.

- The City of New York and the National Park Service have a Cooperative Management Agreement. The NYC Parks Department supports the Monument by providing day-to-day maintenance.
- The flagpole was installed by the City in 1936 with a plaque dedicated to Ephraim Elmer Ellsworth, a New Yorker who was the first officer killed during the Civil War.

Current Status:

- The POW/MIA flag, which was previously raised by the City in accordance with local law, was left in place at the request of the City and in consideration of community and local veterans groups that value its presence.
- The bottom of the lanyard is 9 feet off the ground, meaning it can only be accessed with a ladder or lift. The flags remain in place at all times and are raised/lowered only when in need of replacement due to condition.

Hello Jamie Adams,

This is wonderful news! Thanks for sharing it with me.

Would you and the NPS be open to holding a small and short ceremony with LGBT people back East, when the rainbow colors are first raised?

Yes, I want photos, please.

Lemme know.

Department of the Interior Manual & update Man.pdf

Department of the Interior
Departmental Manual

Effective Date: 4/29/02
Series: Administrative Services
Part 310: General
Chapter 5: Flags

Originating Office: National Business Center

310 DM 5

5.1 Purpose. This chapter provides the Department=s policy for displaying and flying the United States Flag (U.S. flag) and authorized flags representing the Department.

5.2 Responsibilities.

A. The National Business Center (NBC), is responsible for establishing and disseminating Departmental policy and guidance regarding flags.

B. Bureaus and offices are responsible for flying flags in accordance with Departmental policy stated in this chapter.

5.3 Flag of the United States of America.

A. Policy.

(1) Bureaus and offices will display and use the U.S. flag as required by the Joint Resolution of June 22, 1942, as amended; Presidential Proclamation 3044 dated March 1, 1954; Public Law 94-344; 36 U.S.C. ' 173-178; and Proclamation 4064, dated July 6, 1971. Departmental policy for displaying and using flags of the U.S. is supplemented by General Services Administration (GSA) regulations which govern the display or flying of the U.S. flag at GSA controlled installations.

(2) The U.S. flag should be flown in accordance with 36 U.S.C. '174. The U.S. flag should be displayed in the Offices of the Secretary, Solicitor, Assistant Secretaries, Inspector General, and the headquarters and regional headquarters offices of bureaus and offices. It should also be displayed or flown at official functions and special occasions, such as dedications, ceremonies, press conferences, etc.

B. Flying and Displaying the U.S. Flag. The position and manner of display of the U.S. flag will be in accordance with 36 U.S.C. '175 which outlines common use requirements. Generally, when the U.S. flag is displayed with other flags on separate staffs, it will be on the right, i.e., the flags own right (viewers left). No other flag may be placed higher than the U.S. flag as shown in Illustration I.

C. Specifications. The height of a flagpole and whether it is a ground pole or a roof pole determines the size of the flag to be flown. The following serves as a guide:

FLAGPOLE SPECIFICATIONS
Ground Flagpoles
Height (in feet)	Flag Size*
30	3' 6" hoist x 6' 7 3/4" fly
40	5' hoist x 9' 6" fly
50	5' hoist x 9' 6" fly
60	8' 11 3/8" hoist x 17' fly
Roof Flagpoles
20	3'6" hoist x 6'7 3/4" fly
30	5' hoist x 9' 6" fly
40	5' hoist x 9' 6" fly
50	8' 11 3/8" hoist x 17' fly
60	8' 11 3/8" hoist x 17' fly

* Sizes as listed in GSA Catalog.
 When more than one flag is flown on the same pole, it may be advisable to fly a smaller size flag. Other flags, however, may not exceed the size of the U.S. flag.

D. Half-Staffing. The U.S. flag will be flown at half-staff on occasions specified in Presidential Proclamation 3044, and when so directed by the Secretary of the Interior.

(1) The NBC will notify bureau headquarters of occasions when half-staffing is required.

(2) Bureaus should disseminate the information contained in Presidential Proclamation 3044 to all field activities which have flag flying responsibility and establish internal notification procedures to ensure compliance with half-staffing requirements.

Bureau headquarters will notify affected field activities on these occasions.

E. Unserviceable Flags. Torn, frayed, soiled, or otherwise damaged flags are unserviceable and will not be flown. Flags should be inspected daily before being raised for the day. Unserviceable flags may not be discarded in the trash, but will be disposed of by burning, out of public view, and in a way which does not constitute a fire hazard.

F. Procurement. The U.S. flag may be purchased through GSA Federal Supply Sources.

5.4 Flags of the Department of the Interior.

A. The Interior Department Flag (Department Flag). The Department flag will be displayed or flown only in conjunction with the flag of the United States of America and only as specified in this chapter.

(1) Displaying and Flying the Department Flag.

(a) Interior-controlled Installations. The Department flag will be flown in conjunction with the U.S. flag at the entrance to, near, or over the main administration and headquarters buildings at all Department of the Interior-controlled installations. The flag should be displayed in the Offices of the Secretary, Solicitor, Assistant Secretaries, Inspector General, and the headquarters and regional headquarters of bureaus and offices. It may also be displayed or flown at official functions and special occasions, such as dedications, ceremonies, press conferences, etc.

(b) GSA-controlled Installations. GSA's Public Building Service is responsible for displaying and flying flags at GSA-controlled buildings. For special occasions, approval may be obtained from the appropriate GSA Regional Office to fly the Department flag at the entrance to, near, or over Interior-occupied buildings under GSA control.

(c) Leased Facilities. The Department flag will be flown at leased facilities which are solely occupied by the Department, where leasing arrangements (and GSA policy) permit.

(2) Description. The official flag of the Department of the Interior is 4 feet 5 inches on the hoist by 5 feet 6 inches on the fly. As shown in Illustration II, the color is light blue and white, arranged in four alternate triangles. The four quadrants represent these original major activities of the Department: Fish and Wildlife, Mineral Resources, Water and Power, and Public Land Management. In the center of the flag is depicted the Departmental seal, 26 inches in diameter.

Department of the Interior
Departmental Manual

Effective Date:
Series: Administrative Services
Part 310: General
Chapter 5: Flags

Originating Office: Office of Facilities and Administrative Services

310 DM 5

5.1 Purpose. This chapter provides the Department's policy for displaying and flying the United States Flag and authorized flags representing the Department.

5.2 Responsibilities.

A. The Office of Facilities and Administrative Services (OFAS) is responsible for establishing and disseminating Departmental policy and guidance regarding flags.

B. Bureaus and offices are responsible for flying flags in accordance with Departmental policy.

5.3 Flag of the United States of America.

A. Policy.

(1) Bureaus and offices will display and use the flag of the United States of America (U.S. flag) as required by the Joint Resolution of June 22, 1942, as amended; Presidential Proclamation 3044 dated March 1, 1954; Public Law 94-344; 36 U.S.C. §173-178; and Proclamation 4064, dated July 6, 1971. Departmental policy for displaying and using flags of he U.S. is supplemented by General Services Administration (GSA) regulations which govern the display or flying of the U.S. flag at GSA controlled installations.

(2) The U.S. flag should be flown in accordance with 36 U.S.C. §174. The U.S. flag should be displayed in the Offices of the Secretary, Solicitor, Assistant Secretaries, Inspector General, and the headquarters and regional headquarters offices of bureaus and offices. It should also be displayed or flown at official functions and special occasions, such as dedications, ceremonies, press conferences, etc.

B. Flying and Displaying the U.S. Flag. The position and manner of display of the U.S. flag will be in accordance with 36 U.S.C. §175 which outlines common use requirements. Generally, when the U.S. flag is displayed with other flags on separate staffs, it will be on the right, i.e., the flags own right (viewers left). No other flag may be placed higher than the U.S. flag.

C. Specifications. The height of a flagpole and whether it is a ground pole or a roof pole determines the size of the flag to be flown. The following serves as a guide:

FLAGPOLE SPECIFICATIONS
Ground Flagpoles
Height (in feet)	Flag Size*
30	3' 6" hoist x 6' 7 3/4" fly
40	5' hoist x 9' 6" fly
50	5' hoist x 9' 6" fly
60	8' 11 3/8" hoist x 17' fly
Roof Flagpoles
20	3'6" hoist x 6'7 3/4" fly
30	5' hoist x 9' 6" fly
40	5' hoist x 9' 6" fly
50	8' 11 3/8" hoist x 17' fly
60	8' 11 3/8" hoist x 17' fly

* Sizes as listed in GSA Catalog.

 When more than one flag is flown the same pole, it may be advisable to fly a smaller size flag. Other flags, however, may not exceed the size of the U.S. flag.

D. Half-Staffing. The U.S. flag will be flown at half-staff on occasions specified in Presidential Proclamation 3044, and when so directed by the Secretary of the Interior.

(1) OFAS will notify bureau headquarters of occasions when half-staffing is required.

(2) Bureaus should disseminate the information contained in Presidential Proclamation 3044 to all field activities which have flag flying responsibility and establish internal notification procedures to ensure compliance with half-staffing requirements. Bureau headquarters will notify affected field activities on these occasions.

E. Unserviceable Flags. Torn, frayed, soiled, or otherwise damaged flags are unserviceable and will not be flown. Flags should be inspected daily before being raised for the day. Unserviceable flags may not be discarded in the trash, but will be disposed of by burning, out of public view, and in a way which does not constitute a fire hazard.

F. Procurement. The U.S. flag may be purchased through GSA Federal Supply Sources.

Greetings Barbara

Please see the enclosed PPA for new outdoor USA and Rainbow Flags for Christopher Park's flag pole.

We didn't have any luck finding a supplier on GSA Advantage, is there a specific vendor you could recommend for DOI and NPS flags?

Once these flags arrive we can arrange with the contractor Danny Prebutt suggested to install them.

Thank you,

Hi Jamie Adams,

It's been almost a month since I last received email from you. Have sent requests for updates but to no avail.

Please give me the latest details from your end about my rainbow flag request, today or tomorrow would be most appreciated.

All best,

Hello Mr. Petrelis,

It was a pleasure speaking with you earlier today! I want you to know that we are currently working to address the flagpole issue at Stonewall National Monument.

As of now, we are researching what can be done, but we have yet to find a written regulation for the flag pole. Rest assured, we are working to find a solution. I'll let you know how thin

Also, since you had asked–please see President Obama's proclamation from last year.

Hi Mindy! Hope all is well.
Not for this minute -- saw this article in the Gay City News. You can probably grab the online version so you can read it. Not sure I have ever heard of the NPS spokeswoman it mentions. I think the flag request is a valid one -- just flagging this so you can share with Joshua and whoever is site manager there (it changed a few months ago?) if you do have an answer to the issue and can share it with me, I will be sure to hang onto it and share with the Acting RD.
Thanks and stay cool!

From NPS.gov: Fly rainbow flag at Christopher Park request

1 message

Email submitted from: mpetrelis@aol.com at /ston/contacts.htm (UUID: C8F8CD56-1DD8-B71B-035187DDC4801BC5)

To whom it may concern, I am formally requesting that you raise LGBT Rainbow Flags on Sunday, June 25th, for the first time ever, as far as I can determine, which is Gay Pride Day, at Christopher Park from sunrise to midnight. Even if the National Parks Service has previously flown the gay flag at that location near the Stonewall Inn, which is now your property, site of America's landmark queer rebellion for liberation and sexual freedom, please do so again. There are enough days to grant this simple request pertaining to the park's flagpole which flies three flags on any given day. It would be terrific to have three rainbow flags on display on the Christopher Park flag pole for one important day to the gays. Please acknowledge receipt of this public service request by the close of business today. Thanks. Michael Petrelis

Hi Barbara,

A concerned member of the public, Michael Petrelis (mpetrelis@aol.com), has called and emailed requesting that the Pride flag be flown on the mast at Christopher Park for Pride this weekend.

I explained over the phone that we are still trying to get clarification and that we, the NPS, may not have jurisdiction of that pole. He has requested a written response regarding this matter, along with the "regulation" as to why we can or cannot fulfill his request. He also stated that he's gone back & forth with NYC Parks over this question.

Please let me know if there are any steps I can take to help with this matter.

Thank you,
Jamie

Not a big discussion... The flag pole is our property and should be managed according to federal policy. So have at it...

There are three issues.

1. Flag pole lock is not a street level we will need a lift or ladder.
2. It has a lock.
3. There are MIA POW flag and city flags on the pole. Politically how do we replace these. This warrants a bigger discussion.

Stonewall National Monument raises rainbow flag

MANHATTAN – Since the Stonewall National Monument's proclamation in June 2016, National Parks of New York Harbor has received frequent requests to raise the rainbow flag from community members, visitors and other members of the public.

As a result, the National Park Service and Rainbow flags have now replaced the New York City and New York City Parks flags and are flying high above the Stonewall National Monument at Christopher Park along with the American and POW/MIA flags.

Mindy

Made a few changes including New York, New York not Manhattan and my cell not office number as it is a three day weekend and if people need to reach me I won't be in the office.

Also it is Stonewall National Monument not the Stonewall National Monument and the format is messed up so please check.

Shirley and I don't feel we need a quote from either one of us.

He was ok with us donating all flags except NPS to the city should desire to fly them on their property. We have communicated the order to Joshua and Gay. Needless to say there is significant concern on how this will transpire with the community. Once the job is complete Comms will issue a statement.

Maybe something like the following in a joint PR at some point?

Rainbow flag waves above Christopher Park

NEW YORK, NEW YORK – Since Stonewall National Monument's proclamation in June 2016, National Parks of New York Harbor has received frequent requests about raising the Rainbow flag from community members, visitors and other members of the public.

As a result, New York City Parks and Recreation recently raised a Rainbow flag to fly high above Christopher Park.

The land Stonewall National Monument is set on is federally-owned land and was transferred by the City of New York to the National Park Service as part of a Cooperative Management Agreement. However, the existing nautical-style flag pole is situated on City property with the American Flag raised on top and underneath is a yardarm holding the New York City, MIA/POW and Rainbow Flags.

Hi Barbara,

Of course he's not completely accurate but please do not respond... We don't need to complicate matters. Either Mindi or I will be on site at Christopher Park on Wednesday just in case there are reporters and/or if Mr.Petrelis has questions regarding NPS.

Hi all,

Some info for you to digest.

Back in the summer, I made numerous calls and sent a lot of emails to Sam Biederman, spokesman for the NYC Parks Dept and others in the department, requesting their regs and rules for parks and flagpoles. Yes, even though we all thought the flagstaff was on federal park property, I still wanted to see that this department's regs were. I'm still waiting for them to be shared with me.

Glad to know Scott and Barbara have spoken and are getting up to speed on property rights and all.

I had a chat with Jay and said I believe we at least can proclaim the rainbow flag will be permanently managed by NPS.

The hubby and I are greatly relieved the ceremony is gonna happen and the rainbow colors will proudly fly at this sacred location!

Queer cheers,
Michael

Dear Michael, Ken & Jay,

I spoke to Barbara Applebaum (cc'd here) of the NPS just now to inquire about the land issue Newsweek brought up with us this afternoon.

Barbara said they the NPS found out yesterday that they do not own the land. The city owns the land. This came as news to her as you would imagine and she is still sorting out the details.

Importantly, the event is still on for October 11 and the flag is still flying.

I will deal with Newsweek.

Thanks,
Scott

Rainbow LGBT Pride Flag Will Fly Permanently at Stonewall National Monument

By Stav Ziv On 10/5/17 at 3:32 PM

Updated | It's a rainbow-colored triumph whose meaning is compounded by the shadow President Donald Trump's administration has cast over LGBT rights. A rainbow flag will soon fly permanently near the Stonewall National Monument in Manhattan, activists announced on Thursday.

"It is a victory for our community to have these symbolic colors flying majestically over our Stonewall, designated as a National Monument by President Obama, even as our LGBTQ brothers and sisters are under attack by the current regime in power," Michael Petrelis, the LGBT and AIDS activist who initiated the effort, said in a statement. The rainbow flag will replace the New York State flag on the nautical flagpole outside Stonewall, says Ken Kidd, a friend of Petrelis's and a long-time New York City activist who is helping plan the unveiling ceremony.

The flag will officially go up at noon October 11, which is both National Coming Out Day and the 30th anniversary of the March on Washington for LGBT Rights. On that day in 1987, hundreds of thousands of people gathered to call for an end to discrimination and more federal funding for AIDS research and treatment. The NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt was unfurled and displayed for the first time on the National Mall with 1,920 panels covering a space larger than a football field to commemorate those who had died.

Jeremy Barnum, a spokesman for the National Park Service (NPS), later confirmed to Newsweek that the group had submitted an application for a permit for the event, but added that "the flagpole is not on federal property nor is it managed by the National Park Service."

Scott Gorenstein, a publicist for the group, told Newsweek that they have been working with NPS on the event since late summer. “They told us they owned the land,” he wrote in an email. “Following your article they were informed yesterday that they do not own the land and that the city does so,” he added. “They are sorting out the details now regarding ownership. We were assured that this will not affect the upcoming event on October 11 and that the rainbow flag will still fly permanently.”

The Stonewall Inn, a bar located in the Greenwich Village neighborhood, was the site of protests that started on June 28, 1969, that are credited with sparking the modern LGBT rights movement. Then-President Barack Obama designated the bar a national monument on June 24, 2016. “Stonewall will be our first national monument to tell the story of the struggle for LGBT rights,” said Obama, who had recognized June as Pride Month for several years.

But a lot can change in a year. Obama’s successor broke with tradition and failed to acknowledge Pride Month in 2017.

The rainbow flag will be “flying on this national monument during a time when we have a president who is not particularly kind or loving to the LGBT community,” Kidd says.

The first decision Trump made when he snagged the Republican nomination,

Kidd says, was to name a "high-profile anti-LGBT" politician as his pick for vice president, citing Mike Pence's track record in Indiana. That record includes vehement opposition to same-sex marriage and alleged support for gay conversion therapy. He's not the only one. "If you look categorically at all of the appointments that 45 has made, who he has chosen to lead agencies in his Cabinet," Kidd says, "one thing they all consistently have in common is an anti-LGBT agenda." Trump himself has instructed the Pentagon to move forward with a ban on transgender individuals in the military, and his Justice Department filed an amicus brief in support of so-called "religious exemptions" that would allow businesses to discriminate against LGBT Americans.

"Stonewall is the site where Americans who had been oppressed, who had been told by their governments they were second class, finally said enough is enough," Kidd says. "That was a spark that caused a wildfire that gave great inspiration not only to their contemporaries but to the next generations," he adds. "Our rainbow colors flying in tandem with the stars and stripes is a source of inspiration, a recognition of equality, a recognition of a struggle for equality that is not over by any stretch of imagination."

This story has been updated to include comments from the National Park Service and a response from a publicist for the group of activists about confusion over ownership of the exact land on which the flagpole stands, which came to light after Thursday's announcement.

Yes, Commissioner Silver has agreed to let it remain. He is also aware that we removed the NPS flag and raised the city park flag. I need to discuss the first amendment event scheduled for Wednesday 10/11 to be sure we are all on the same page at your convenience.

Ralph,

Good morning. The National Park Service is planning on putting up a rainbow flag at Stonewall. However we want to keep the MIA/POW flag. Do you have a vendor for MIA/POW flags? We want to replace all of the flags at one time.

Thanks

Barbara

Rainbow LGBT Pride Flag Will Fly Permanently at Stonewall National Monument

By Stav Ziv On 10/5/17 at 3:32 PM

Updated | It's a rainbow-colored triumph whose meaning is compounded by the shadow President Donald Trump's administration has cast over LGBT rights. A rainbow flag will soon fly permanently near the Stonewall National Monument in Manhattan, activists announced on Thursday.

"It is a victory for our community to have these symbolic colors flying majestically over our Stonewall, designated as a National Monument by President Obama, even as our LGBTQ brothers and sisters are under attack by the current regime in power," Michael Petrelis, the LGBT and AIDS activist who initiated the effort, said in a statement. The rainbow flag will replace the New York State flag on the nautical flagpole outside Stonewall, says Ken Kidd, a friend of Petrelis's and a long-time New York City activist who is helping plan the unveiling ceremony.

The flag will officially go up at noon October 11, which is both National Coming Out Day and the 30th anniversary of the March on Washington for LGBT Rights. On that day in 1987, hundreds of thousands of people gathered to call for an end to discrimination and more federal funding for AIDS research and treatment. The NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt was unfurled and displayed for the first time on the National Mall with 1,920 panels covering a space larger than a football field to commemorate those who had died.

Jeremy Barnum, a spokesman for the National Park Service (NPS), later confirmed to Newsweek that the group had submitted an application for a permit for the event, but added that "the flagpole is not on federal property nor is it managed by the National Park Service."

Scott Gorenstein, a publicist for the group, told Newsweek that they have been working with NPS on the event since late summer. "They told us they owned the land," he wrote in an email. "Following your article they were informed yesterday that they do not own the land and that the city does so," he added. "They are sorting out the details now regarding ownership. We were assured that this will not affect the upcoming event on October 11 and that the rainbow flag will still fly permanently."

The Stonewall Inn, a bar located in the Greenwich Village neighborhood, was the site of protests that started on June 28, 1969, that are credited with sparking the modern LGBT rights movement. Then-President Barack Obama designated the bar a national monument on June 24, 2016. “Stonewall will be our first national monument to tell the story of the struggle for LGBT rights,” said Obama, who had recognized June as Pride Month for several years.

But a lot can change in a year. Obama’s successor broke with tradition and failed to acknowledge Pride Month in 2017.

The rainbow flag will be “flying on this national monument during a time when we have a president who is not particularly kind or loving to the LGBT community,” Kidd says.

The first decision Trump made when he snagged the Republican nomination,

Kidd says, was to name a "high-profile anti-LGBT" politician as his pick for vice president, citing Mike Pence's track record in Indiana. That record includes vehement opposition to same-sex marriage and alleged support for gay conversion therapy. He's not the only one. "If you look categorically at all of the appointments that 45 has made, who he has chosen to lead agencies in his Cabinet," Kidd says, "one thing they all consistently have in common is an anti-LGBT agenda." Trump himself has instructed the Pentagon to move forward with a ban on transgender individuals in the military, and his Justice Department filed an amicus brief in support of so-called "religious exemptions" that would allow businesses to discriminate against LGBT Americans.

"Stonewall is the site where Americans who had been oppressed, who had been told by their governments they were second class, finally said enough is enough," Kidd says. "That was a spark that caused a wildfire that gave great inspiration not only to their contemporaries but to the next generations," he adds. "Our rainbow colors flying in tandem with the stars and stripes is a source of inspiration, a recognition of equality, a recognition of a struggle for equality that is not over by any stretch of imagination."

This story has been updated to include comments from the National Park Service and a response from a publicist for the group of activists about confusion over ownership of the exact land on which the flagpole stands, which came to light after Thursday's announcement.

3) Through the permitting process, approval rights came into play and it was brought to light that the flagpole is in fact not on federal property nor is it managed by the National Park Service. The flag was initially raised by the National Park Service then gifted to New York City Parks.

Good evening, Denis Slattery here with the New York Daily News. Organizers of a flag ceremony being held tomorrow at the Stonewall Inn National Monument claim that the NPS pulled out of the festivities and have passed "on their responsibilities of proprietor and caretaker of the nautical flagpole to the City of New York." A rainbow flag is to be raised tomorrow in honor of the site's importance to the LGBT community. Is someone available from NPS to comment on the situation or the claims of the organizers? They say that NPS personnel were scheduled to speak at the event, but will no longer be in attendance. I am working on a story about the Stonewall Monument in New York City. There is an event planned today to raise a rainbow flag at the site. Organizers of the event say the NPS was going to participate but pulled out yesterday. Can you confirm this account? Karen Matthews, Associated Press, 212-621-1678.

We'd like Joshua to remain as the lead spokesperson today -- thought that's what we discussed this morning. Just confirm that with him.

Hi Stephanie,

Thanks for your help on this. I'm following up on a note I received this morning from the organizers of an event dedicating the permanent installation of a rainbow flag at Stonewall National Monument this afternoon. They say the NPS has withdrawn its sponsorship of the event despite being involved with the earlier planning. Can you confirm that? Additionally, the organizers say the NPS says the flagpole itself is not part of the national monument, so that when the flag is put up today it won't be on federal land. Is that accurate? It's a bit confusing, since photos of the flagpole make it seem as if it is part of the monument.

Thanks, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Best,

Daniel Lewis

BY ANDY HUMM | What should have been a celebration dedicating the raising of the Rainbow Flag at the Stonewall National Monument in Greenwich Village on October 11 at noon turned into another attack on LGBTQ people by the Trump administration in a week full of such attacks. When it saw the pre-publicity on the ceremony, the National Park Service under Secretary Ryan Zinke's Department of the Interior worked to certify that the flagpole adjacent to Christopher Park was not technically on federal land so that no Rainbow Flag would be flying on US government property.

The National Park Service's

The Rainbow Flag was raised high at the end of Christopher Street on June 14 to honor the late Gilbert Baker. | DANA DEVILLE

Barbara Applebaum, who arranged the permit for the event, dropped out as a speaker at the ceremony — her office citing a schedule conflict — and organizers of the event said in a release that the Park Service dropped its sponsorship of the event for which it had issued the permit to veteran gay activist Michael Petrelis.

Ann Northrop, co-host of Gay USA, who will preside over the dedication, said, "This is an unbelievably petty, sleazy, transparent bit of cruelty by the Trump administration. Evidently, we are so filthy to them and their right-wing supporters that they can't even be associated with a few yards of rainbow fabric."

In abrupt turnabout, Park Service pulls out of Stonewall Monument ceremony, saying it's not responsible for flagpole

Veteran gay activist Ken Kidd, one of the main organizers of the event, said, "This is emblematic of what's happening in the country right now to LGBTQ Americans citizens. We're being told at every turn — including Trump's first decision to appoint Pence — that actions will be taken to make us second-class citizens again. The very idea that taxpayer dollars were spent researching a flagpole on a national monument when there are so many other things at stake in the country is an outrage. Some employee of the Park Service or Interior read that Newsweek preview article on this because Donald Trump's name was mentioned by me. They are so thin-skinned and so bigoted that they were going to spite us and not let that Rainbow Flag fly on federal property."

President Barack Obama created the Stonewall National Monument last year using his powers under the Antiquities Act. The monument includes Christopher Park across from the Stonewall bar and the Christopher Street block where the Stonewall Rebellion against a police raid of the bar took place over several days in June 1969. It is 7.7 acres in total. In order for the designation to be made, the city had to cede the land to the federal government, which they did after a campaign led by Congressmember Jerry Nadler that enjoyed the full support of neighborhood, city, state, and LGBTQ leaders.

Mindy Anderson, chief of communications for National Parks of New York Harbor, said, "The only federal property is within the fence line of Christopher Park and some of the gardens. The other area is of historical significance because of the history there for interpretation purposes."

Anderson said that in the course of issuing a permit for this event, the Park Service learned that "the flagpole is not on federal property. It's a separate monument to the first person killed in the Civil War. It has never been part of the Stonewall National Monument, although it is located there. The flagpole is not managed by the Park Service. We gifted the flag to New York City Parks," which continues to administer Christopher Park with the Park Service.

"We always knew that the only area that the Park Service managed was the area within the fence line," Anderson asserted. "The location of the flagpole is not on federal land. In good faith, because of working with the community, we raised the Rainbow Flag. So with our strong partnership with NYC Parks, we gifted the flag to them so they could continue to fly it."

Anderson said she would be at the ceremony but did not know if any Park Service personnel would speak in Applebaum's stead.

Maps of the monument, including those provided to Petrelis, do include the flagpole. And whatever other status it may have, it sits within the designated monument area — though not on federal land, the Park Service is now saying. On the Park Service website, the page that had the map for the Stonewall National Monument has been taken down.

Kidd said, "What we had planned with great people from the National Park Service was a lovely, small-town all-American celebration of our rightful place as citizens and of Stonewall's rightful place in the struggle for equality in the USA. Our plans are to continue with that celebration."

Officials and activists at the Stonewall National Monument dedication last June 27 included US Representative Carolyn Maloney, successful DOMA plaintiff Edie Windsor, New York City First Lady Chirlane McCray, Mayor Bill de Blasio, Representative Jerrold Nadler, City Councilmember Corey Johnson, Interior Secretary Sally Jewell, National Park Service director Jonathan Jarvis, White House senior advisor Valerie Jarrett, State Senator Brad Hoylman, and Assemblymember Deborah Glick. | DONNA ACETO

Despite the sudden kerfuffle created by the Trump administration, Petrelis, in a written release, said it "is a victory for our Community to have these symbolic colors flying majestically over our Stonewall, designated as a National Monument by President Obama, even as our LGBTQ brothers and sisters are under attack by the current regime in power."

The right-wing Family Research Council indicated before Trump was inaugurated that it wanted him to take back the monument designation for Stonewall entirely. The new administration is currently reviewing presidential designations made in the recent past under the Antiquities Act, though no statement has been made about the Stonewall National Monument's status.

I'm covering the event below.

Looking for a little clarification from the NPS.

Is this spot on the NPS property? Does the NPS support this flag? Want to comment?

Hello John,

Your information was given to me by someone in the Northeast Regional office. I was calling to learn if it was true the that NPS dropped its sponsorship of the Stonewall celebration today dedicating the raising of the rainbow flag. As I understand it, the NPS is saying the flag was never part of the monument, despite the flag being listed on monument maps. If this is true, it's a disheartening turn of events for the LGBTQ community and signals a chilling direction for the administration.

The NPS claims to tell "all American's stories" and preserve LGBTQ history. The dedication of the Stonewall Monument was a tremendous step forward for diversity and inclusion. Please do not contribute to the frightening backward trend to wipe our community off the map.

Thank you,

Hi Karen,

In response to your follow-up, no, I am not saying that it is not ok for a rainbow flag to fly on the grounds of a national monument. The point is that this flagpole is not on federal property. Nonetheless, we are pleased that the pride flag continues to fly where it can be appreciated by visitors to Stonewall National Monument.

Thanks for responding.

I was just transcribing what you said to reporters. I heard you say "When the assertion was made that this was the first pride flag on a national monument it was important to verify that."

What's the significance of that assertion? Verify that why?

The activists are saying that when the Newsweek story came out last week it prompted NPS to pull its support. Is that accurate?

STON Flag Release 101117.pdf

The National Parks of New York Harbor was pleased to welcome a commemoration event at Stonewall National Monument earlier today. The event celebrated the significance of the site as the first national monument dedicated to the history of the LGBTQ-rights movement, and the presence of a Pride Flag on the historic flagstaff outside Christopher Park.

It is the mission of Stonewall National Monument to share the history of the Stonewall Uprising and the LGBTQ-rights movement as broadly as possible. Events like the one today help the NPS do that.

"The NPS is committed to telling stories that reflect all of American history" said Joshua Laird, Commissioner of the National Parks of New York Harbor. "The struggle for LGBTQ rights represented through Stonewall National Monument has rightfully earned its place along other landmarks in American self-determination, from Women's Rights National Historical Park in Seneca Falls to the Selma to Montgomery National Historic Trail in Alabama."

Stonewall is regarded by many as the moment that led to the modern LGBTQ rights movement. Within two years of stonewall, LGBTQ rights groups had started in nearly every major city in America. The Pride March that happens in New York City each June and in cities around the world are a direct outcome of stonewall. The NPS has organized a contingent of rangers for each of the past two New York marches.

The National Parks of New York Harbor has been grateful for support from the City of New York and its Parks Department, as well as other local groups that partner with the NPS to care for and raise awareness about the site.

On September 26, the NPS held a public meeting to kick off a planning process for Stonewall, known as a Foundation Document, which outline a management strategy and define how the story of Stonewall and the LGBTQ-rights movement will be told. This was the first of multiple public meetings and scholarly gatherings that will be held in the months ahead. The NPS is proud to help cultivate and share the history of Stonewall as an integral part of American History with generations to come, elevating the voices and preserving the contributions of those who inspired a movement and who remind us to embrace our differences and shared humanity in our march towards equality and justice.

Mindy,

I'm still confused about the flag. Did Joshua mean to say that it's not OK for a rainbow flag to fly on the grounds of a national monument? Because that seems to be the implication. Can you clarify?

STON Flag Release 101117_1.pdf

The National Parks of New York Harbor was pleased to welcome a commemoration event at Stonewall National Monument earlier today. The event celebrated the significance of the site as the first national monument dedicated to the history of the LGBTQ-rights movement, and the presence of a Pride Flag on the historic flagstaff outside Christopher Park.

It is the mission of Stonewall National Monument to share the history of the Stonewall Uprising and the LGBTQ-rights movement as broadly as possible. Events like the one today help the NPS do that.

"The NPS is committed to telling stories that reflect all of American history" said Joshua Laird, Commissioner of the National Parks of New York Harbor. "The struggle for LGBTQ rights represented through Stonewall National Monument has rightfully earned its place along other landmarks in American self-determination, from Women's Rights National Historical Park in Seneca Falls to the Selma to Montgomery National Historic Trail in Alabama."

Stonewall is regarded by many as the moment that led to the modern LGBTQ rights movement. Within two years of stonewall, LGBTQ rights groups had started in nearly every major city in America. The Pride March that happens in New York City each June and in cities around the world are a direct outcome of stonewall. The NPS has organized a contingent of rangers for each of the past two New York marches.

The National Parks of New York Harbor has been grateful for support from the City of New York and its Parks Department, as well as other local groups that partner with the NPS to care for and raise awareness about the site.

On September 26, the NPS held a public meeting to kick off a planning process for Stonewall, known as a Foundation Document, which outline a management strategy and define how the story of Stonewall and the LGBTQ-rights movement will be told. Stonewall Flags Briefing Statement 10112017 F.pdf

Briefing Statement Stonewall National Monument First Amendment Event

Bureau: National Park Service
Issue: Rainbow Flag first amendment event at Stonewall National Monument
Park: Stonewall National Monument

Key Points:

- Rainbow Flag was installed on September 28, 2017. Flag lanyard is 9 feet off the ground. Ladder was used to install flag.

- The October 11, 2017 event started at 12 noon and lasted until 12:30 pm. The first 15 minutes was on Federal Property and then moved over to NYC Parks' property.

- New York City Parks doesn't require a permit

- NPS, NYPD and NYC Parks staffed the event.

- Approximately 75 people attended the Flag event. Participants included community members, visitors and activists.

- The following news outlets were at the event. WPIX TV, WNBC TV, WABC TV, WCBS Radio, TV, The Gay News,

- The organizers decided not to have the National Park Service speak. They did thank the National Park Service.

- Event started with the National Anthem sung by Broadway Actor Lee Delaria. Participants put hands over their hearts or stood at attention Military Style. Extremely respectful group.

- There were several speakers who discussed National Coming Out Day, the struggle for LGBT rights and recognition, the importance of speaking out and standing up for what you believe in. Also a mention of Affordable Housing. (A local New York issue)

- After the brief speeches the group moved over to NY City property.

- National Parks of New York Harbor Commissioner Joshua Laird and Public Affairs Officer Mindy Anderson spoke with various members of the media after the event.

- Visitors requested photographs with the rangers and passport stamps afterwards. Typical visitor contact activities.

- No incidents or issues. Returned a misplaced cell phone to one of the speakers.

Background:

- On August 21, 2017, the Park received a permit application from Michael Petrelis for a First Amendment event to raise a rainbow flag in the park. Mr. Petrelis previously filed a FOIA request for documents relating to the Park's assessment of requests to raise a rainbow flag at STON.
- The Park determined that it would raise the rainbow flag itself, without a ceremony, in response to broader community requests. This was accomplished on September 28, 2017. Mr. Petrelis has therefore modified his proposed event to omit raising the flag. The current draft permit includes remarks and singing only.
- STON issued a Special Park Use permit to Mr. Petrelis for an event on October 11, 2017, which coincides with National Coming Out Day.
- Park staff are typically assigned to monitor permitted events to make certain park resources are protected.
- STON was designated a National Monument in June 2016.
- The land comprising STON was previously a NYC municipal park (Christopher Park) that was donated/transferred to the federal government prior to designation.
- The flagpole is located in a portion of the park that is outside the area transferred to the federal government. However, it falls within the larger interpretive boundary included within the 2016 National Monument designation and is managed by the NPS along with the rest of Christopher Park (see attached NM and park survey maps).
- The National Park Service is preparing a foundation document to guide planning and management of the site. The first comment period runs from September 26, 2017 through October 26, 2017.
- The National Park Service has staffed the site for the past two summers. Community members, visitors and other members of the public frequently request that we raise the rainbow flag on the flagpole.
- The City of New York and the National Park Service have a Cooperative Management Agreement. The NYC Parks Department supports the Monument by providing day-to-day maintenance.
- The flagpole was installed by the City in 1936 with a plaque dedicated to Ephraim Elmer Ellsworth, a New Yorker who was the first officer killed during the Civil War.

Current Status:

- The United States, Rainbow, POW/MAI and New York City Parks Flags are currently hanging on the flagpole.
- The bottom of the lanyard is 9 feet off the ground, meaning it can only be accessed with a ladder or lift. The flags remain in place at all times and are raised/lowered only when in need of replacement due to condition.

Tweaked and editions:

- NPS is proud to help cultivate and share the history of Stonewall as an integral part of American History with generations to come, elevating the voices and preserving the contributions of those who inspired a movement and who remind us to embrace our differences and shared humanity in our march towards equality and justice.

- At Stonewall National Monument the National Park Service helps tell the story of the Stonewall Uprising, a momentous event that inspired a national LGBT civil rights movement.

- As one of the newer national monuments in the National Park Service, Stonewall is a park in progress. We recognize and value the strong community involvement that exists within and surrounding this historic landmark district and work very closely with New York City Parks to effectively manage Stonewall.

- The flag pole is not on federal property, nor is it managed by the National Park Service.

If pressed:

- The park raised the flag as a part of a good-faith effort to respond to community interest.

- When it was determined that the flagpole is not on federal property, the flag was gifted to New York City Parks.

- The assertion that the pride flag was the first to fly over a national monument was covered by several media outlets. A few others claimed it was the first to fly over federal property on a permanent basis. We never made this claim. The media interest in this supposed precedent is what prompted our interest in whether either statement was factually accurate.

- NPS never pulled our support. The permit was never in question. We staffed the event, supplied power and the amplification equipment. The only issue was whether we would have someone offer welcoming remarks. We don't do that for every event we permit on our property and we unfortunately sent mixed signals here.

- This morning Commissioner Joshua Laird, as the senior NPS executive in the NYC area, offered to provide remarks hoped would signal how important the site is to NPS. The sponsors felt it was too late and would be too disruptive, so they declined the offer.

Hi Heather, the linked story says the Trump administration through Interior has completely disowned the Stonewall memorial for the LGQBT community and pulled representatives from the Park Service from attending. It seems no one from the federal government will be there. Is that accurate? If it isn't, could you explain in detail what is. I'm at 301.738.1555 if a call is better. - Darryl

I just looked over these - it's a day late, a dollar short. We either post the positive comments on the park's website (I made them blue), and leave off the bottom part (I made them red) about the flag pole. My two cents - but most of the statements at the end would be 'if asked'....at this point I don't know if this story is over or if it still has legs either.

Tweaked and editions:

- The National Parks of New York Harbor was pleased to welcome a commemoration event at Stonewall National Monument earlier today. The event celebrated the significance of the site as the first national monument dedicated to the history of the LGBTQ-rights movement, and the presence of a Pride Flag on the historic flagstaff outside Christopher Park.

- It is the mission of Stonewall National Monument to share the history of the Stonewall Uprising and the LGBTQ-rights movement as broadly as possible. Events like the one today help the NPS do that.

- “NPS is committed to telling stories that reflect all of American history” said Joshua Laird, Commissioner of the National Parks of New York Harbor. “The struggle for LGBTQ rights represented through Stonewall National Monument has rightfully earned its place along other landmarks in American self-determination, from Women's Rights National Historical Park in Seneca Falls to the Selma to Montgomery National Historic Trail in Alabama.”

- Stonewall is regarded by many as the moment that led to the modern LGBTQ rights movement. Within two years of Stonewall, LGBTQ rights groups had started in nearly every major city in America. The Pride March that happens in New York City each June and in cities around the world are a direct outcome of Stonewall. NPS has organized a contingent of rangers for each of the past two New York marches.

- The National Parks of New York Harbor has been grateful for support from the City of New York and its Parks Department, as well as other local groups that partner with the NPS to care for and raise awareness about the site.

- On September 26, NPS held a public meeting to kick off a planning process for Stonewall, known as a Foundation Document, which outline a management strategy and define how the story of Stonewall and the LGBTQ-rights movement will be told. This was the first of multiple public meetings and scholarly gatherings that will be held in the months ahead. Members of the public who would like to have their voice heard and find out about future meetings, should visit the NPS website at https://parkplanning.nps.gov/ston.

- NPS is proud to help cultivate and share the history of Stonewall as an integral part of American History with generations to come, elevating the voices and preserving the contributions of those who inspired a movement and who remind us to embrace our differences and shared humanity in our march towards equality and justice.

- At Stonewall National Monument the National Park Service helps tell the story of the Stonewall Uprising, a momentous event that inspired a national LGBT civil rights movement.

- As one of the newer national monuments in the National Park Service, Stonewall is a park in progress. We recognize and value the strong community involvement that exists within and surrounding this historic landmark district and work very closely with New York City Parks to effectively manage Stonewall.

- The flag pole is not on federal property, nor is it managed by the National Park Service.

If pressed: (and I would say "IF asked" not pressed)

- The park raised the flag as a part of a good-faith effort to respond to community interest.

- When it was determined that the flagpole is not on federal property, the flag was gifted to New York City Parks.

- The assertion that the pride flag was the first to fly over a national monument was covered by several media outlets. A few others claimed it was the first to fly over federal property on a permanent basis. We never made this claim. The media interest in this supposed precedent is what prompted our interest in whether either statement was factually accurate.

- NPS never pulled our support. The permit was never in question. We staffed the event, supplied power and the amplification equipment. The only issue was whether we would have someone offer welcoming remarks. We don't do that for every event we permit on our property and we unfortunately sent mixed signals here.

- This morning Commissioner Joshua Laird, as the senior NPS executive in the NYC area, offered to provide remarks hoped would signal how important the site is to NPS. The sponsors felt it was too late and would be too disruptive, so they declined the offer.

Hi Heather, the linked story says the Trump administration through Interior has completely disowned the Stonewall memorial for the LGQBT community and pulled representatives from the Park Service from attending. It seems no one from the federal government will be there. Is that accurate? If it isn't, could you explain in detail what is. I'm at 301.738.1555 if a call is better. - Darryl

Feedback: Feedback (HTML not allowed): I was very disappointed to learn that the National Park Service pulled its support for the flying of the Rainbow Flag over the Stonewall Monument today. Actually, disappointed is only a small part of it. I am angry, disheartened and disgusted by the Trump administration's assault on the LGBT community, occurring in so many different ways. The NPS claims the flag is not technically on federal land. But not only did the service decline to raise the flag itself, it also cancelled the participation of staffers scheduled to be in the ceremony--and on National Coming Out Day. This slap in the face to the LGBT community is obviously the continuation of the Trump administration's spiteful war on LGBT rights and recognition. President Obama understood the importance of this site to the equal protection of all Americans. Donald Trump and his minions recognize only narrow-minded prejudice and discrimination. What a shameful demonstration of what is truly in your soul, Secretary Zinke, and that of Donald Trump.

Afternoon everyone,

It's been a fun day for all, right?! Here are the notes from today's call:

- 2018 Messaging: OComm has begun working on some ideas for 2018 messaging, including the monthly message calendar. They want to get this out to the field by 10/27. They are using a Planning Document to facilitate this discussion. Next Steps:
  - All (Directorates and Regional PIOs): Please make any additional comments on the Planning Document by Friday, October 13. You can also send comments to Beth (beth_stern@nps.gov) and Ginny (virginia_reams@nps.gov).
  - OCOMM: Refine the Planning Document, share final draft w/ everyone on Tuesday, October 17, for comment and review by Friday, October 20.
  - OCOMM: Distribute final by October 27 with links to InsideNPS for employees and to NPS.gov for partners and the public. It can be included in the October 30th Green & Gray Report as well.

- Be on the lookout for the Workforce Environment Survey Results announcement this Friday
  - Acting Director Mike Reynolds will be at the Grand Canyon with Secretary Zinke to announce this to GRCA staff. The announcement will be recorded and shared with all employees.
  - A webinar will be held next Tuesday and NPS staff will go in depth on survey results and ways the NPS will move forward

- Asian American Pacific Islander Theme Study rollout in 2-4 weeks
- Military website reminder about sharing content from the service's veteran community.
- Also, FYI Chris Powell from the MWR will be starting a new position in the WASO Leg Affairs Office soon!

We shared the following, though the only new info was on FLNI. Thanked Jeremy for all his support with STON comms and he provided a brief overview of the issue to the call:

- CEBE: Civil War battle re-enactment steps up security after threats (WTOP)
- FLNI will display Tower of Voices chime during weekends in Oct, beginning Oct 14. Table will be staffed with Friends of FLNI volunteers to talk about the construction of the tower.

Hi Karen,

In response to your follow-up, no, I am not saying that it is not ok for a rainbow flag to fly on the grounds of a national monument. The point is that this flagpole is not on federal property. Nonetheless, we are pleased that the pride flag continues to fly where it can be appreciated by visitors to Stonewall National Monument.

Joshua

Hi All,

I would propose the below

Statement by Joshua Laird, Commissioner of the National Parks of New York Harbor

It is the mission of Stonewall National Monument to share the history of the Stonewall Uprising, a momentous event that inspired a national LGBT civil rights movement.

The National Parks of New York Harbor was were pleased to welcome a commemoration event at Stonewall National Monument earlier today.

The event's organizers requested a permit to hold today's event at Stonewall National Monument which the National Park Service (NPS) approved. The NPS does not "sponsor" first amendment events, but we do participate in the planning of permitted events to make certain they meet safety and resource protection requirements. NPS personnel often attend these events ensure they follow permit requirements.

In this case, there was some confusion about whether we would or would not speak at the event. As the senior NPS representative in the area I attended today's event and I hope that my presence underscores how important Stonewall is to us and our appreciation for the community's support of the monument.

Q&A

If asked about the flag:
The flag pole is not on federal property, nor is it managed by the National Park Service.

The park raised the flag as a part of a good-faith effort to respond to community interest.

When it was determined that the flagpole is not on federal property, the flag was given to New York City Parks.

Stonewall Summary of 10112017 Flag event.pdf

Summary of Stonewall National Monument First Amendment Event

Bureau: National Park Service
Topic: Rainbow Flag first amendment event at Stonewall National Monument
Park: Stonewall National Monument

Key Points:

- Rainbow Flag was installed on September 28, 2017. Flag lanyard is 9 feet off the ground. Ladder was used to install flag.

- The October 11, 2017 event started at 12 noon and lasted until 12:30 pm. The first 15 minutes was on Federal Property and then moved over to NYC Parks' property.

- New York City Parks doesn't require a permit

- NPS, NYPD and NYC Parks staffed the event.

- Approximately 75 people attended the Flag event. Participants included community members, visitors and activists.

- More than 25 news outlets were at the event including WPIX TV, WNBC TV, WABC TV, WCBS Radio, WCBS TV, and the Gay News.

- The organizers decided not to have the National Park Service speak. They did thank the National Park Service.

- Event started with the National Anthem sung by Broadway Actor Lee Delaria. Participants put hands over their hearts or stood at attention Military Style. Extremely respectful group.

- There were several speakers who discussed National Coming Out Day, the struggle for LGBT rights and recognition, the importance of speaking out and standing up for what you believe in. Also a mention of Affordable Housing. (A local New York issue)

- After the brief speeches the group moved over to NY City property.

- National Parks of New York Harbor Commissioner Joshua Laird and Public Affairs Officer Mindy Anderson spoke with various members of the media after the event.

- Commissioner Laird and Public Affairs officer Anderson are responding to any follow up media inquiries.

- Visitors requested photographs with the rangers and passport stamps afterwards. Typical visitor contact activities.

- No incidents or issues. Returned a misplaced cell phone to one of the speakers.

Background:

- On August 21, 2017, the Park received a permit application from Michael Petrelis for a First Amendment event to raise a rainbow flag in the park. Mr. Petrelis previously filed a FOIA request for documents relating to the Park's assessment of requests to raise a rainbow flag at STON.
- The Park determined that it would raise the rainbow flag itself, without a ceremony, in response to broader community requests. This was accomplished on September 28, 2017. Mr. Petrelis modified his proposed event to omit raising the flag.
- STON issued a Special Park Use permit to Mr. Petrelis for an event on October 11, 2017, which coincides with National Coming Out Day.
- Park staff are typically assigned to monitor permitted events to make certain park resources are protected.
- STON was designated a National Monument in June 2016.
- The land comprising STON was previously a NYC municipal park (Christopher Park) that was donated/transferred to the federal government prior to designation.
- The flagpole is located in a portion of the park that is outside the area transferred to the federal government. However, it falls within the larger interpretive boundary included within the 2016 National Monument designation and is managed by the NPS along with the rest of Christopher Park (see attached NM and park survey maps).
- The National Park Service is preparing a foundation document to guide planning and management of the site. The first comment period runs from September 26, 2017 through October 26, 2017.
- The National Park Service has staffed the site for the past two summers. Community members, visitors and other members of the public frequently request that we raise the rainbow flag on the flagpole.
- The City of New York and the National Park Service have a Cooperative Management Agreement. The NYC Parks Department supports the Monument by providing day-to-day maintenance.
- The flagpole was installed by the City in 1936 with a plaque dedicated to Ephraim Elmer Ellsworth, a New Yorker who was the first officer killed during the Civil War.

Current Status:

- The United States, Rainbow, POW/MAI and New York City Parks Flags are currently hanging on the flagpole.
- The bottom of the lanyard is 9 feet off the ground, meaning it can only be accessed with a ladder or lift. The flags remain in place at all times and are raised/lowered only when in need of replacement due to condition.

I was very disappointed to learn that the National Park Service pulled its support for the flying of the Rainbow Flag over the Stonewall Monument today. Actually, disappointed is only a small part of it. I am angry, disheartened and disgusted by the Trump administration's assault on the LGBT community, occurring in so many different ways. The NPS claims the flag is not technically on federal land. But not only did the service decline to raise the flag itself, it also cancelled the participation of staffers scheduled to be in the ceremony--and on National Coming Out Day. This slap in the face to the LGBT community is obviously the continuation of the Trump administration's spiteful war on LGBT rights and recognition. President Obama understood the importance of this site to the equal protection of all Americans. Donald Trump and his minions recognize only narrow-minded prejudice and discrimination. What a shameful demonstration of the true "soul" of these people.

I think it is deplorable that the current administration seems hell bent on not having the Rainbow Flag fly on National Park property. And their efforts to rescind all of the rights that have been fought for and achieved by LBGT persons in America fly in the face of all that the Stonewall National Monument stands for. (and to rescind every trace of President Obama's legacy). NOW MORE THAN EVER, WE NEED STONEWALL TO REMIND THIS NATION OF OUR LGBT HISTORY, STRUGGLES, AND THE DISCRIMINATION AND HATRED THAT MADE THE STONEWALL REBELLION NECESSARY. FLY THE RAINBOW FLAG!

Statement by Joshua Laird, Commissioner of the National Parks of New York Harbor

It is the mission of Stonewall National Monument to share the history of the Stonewall Uprising, a momentous event that inspired a national LGBT civil rights movement.

The National Parks of New York Harbor was pleased to welcome a commemoration event at Stonewall National Monument earlier today.

In this case, there was some confusion about whether we would or would not speak at the event. As the senior NPS representative in the area, I attended today's event and I hope that my presence underscores how important Stonewall is to us and our appreciation for the community's support of the monument.

Q&A

If asked about the flag:
The flag pole is not on federal property.

The park raised the flag on September 28 as a part of a good-faith effort to respond to community interest.

When it was determined that the flagpole is not on federal property, the flag was given to New York City Parks. They have chosen to let the flag continue to fly on the flagpole.

Background:

- On August 21, 2017, the Park received a permit application from Michael Petrelis for a First Amendment event to raise a rainbow flag in the park. Mr. Petrelis previously filed a FOIA request for documents relating to the Park's assessment of requests to raise a rainbow flag at STON.
- The Park determined that it would raise the rainbow flag itself, without a ceremony, in response to broader community requests. This was accomplished on September 28, 2017. Mr. Petrelis modified his proposed event to omit raising the flag.
- STON issued a Special Park Use permit to Mr. Petrelis for an event on October 11, 2017, which coincides with National Coming Out Day.
- Park staff are typically assigned to monitor permitted events to make certain park resources are protected.
- STON was designated a National Monument in June 2016.
- The land comprising STON was previously a NYC municipal park (Christopher Park) that was donated/transferred to the federal government prior to designation.
- The flagpole is located in a portion of the park that is outside the area transferred to the federal government. However, it falls within the larger interpretive boundary included within the 2016 National Monument designation and is managed by the NPS along with the rest of Christopher Park (see attached NM and park survey maps).
- The National Park Service is preparing a foundation document to guide planning and management of the site. The first comment period runs from September 26, 2017 through October 26, 2017.
- The National Park Service has staffed the site for the past two summers. Community members, visitors and other members of the public frequently request that we raise the rainbow flag on the flagpole.
- The City of New York and the National Park Service have a Cooperative Management Agreement. The NYC Parks Department supports the Monument by providing day-to-day maintenance.
- The flagpole was installed by the City in 1936 with a plaque dedicated to Ephraim Elmer Ellsworth, a New Yorker who was the first officer killed during the Civil War.

Current Status:

- The United States, Rainbow, POW/MAI and New York City Parks Flags are currently hanging on the flagpole.
- The bottom of the lanyard is 9 feet off the ground, meaning it can only be accessed with a ladder or lift. The flags remain in place at all times and are raised/lowered only when in need of replacement due to condition.
