I can try for 4 pm eastern to have at least a few hours for notice, or try for whatever the best time is for Tuesday.

My Monday is pretty tight, but I think we need an all member call to air out this letter and determine any next steps. Next time we should have an up or down roll call vote and maybe we have important issues discussion on day two when more of the members are present. Although I recall there were about 25 present. We can have an organized call prior so we are in agreement on path forward.
