

NEW FEATURES & ENHANCEMENTS

E&ENEWS
BY POLITICO

CELEBRATING
25
YEARS

E&E News was founded 25 years ago with a mission to explore and deliver coverage of the ever-evolving landscape of energy and environmental issues. Our commitment to bring compelling journalism and the best user experience to our subscribers drives us to improve the product and features based on the latest industry best practices and your feedback. The recent and planned enhancements are designed to enable you to discover, access, and share content easily.

THE LATEST

HOT TOPICS

A digest email with up to five stories handpicked by the editorial team that will concentrate on one topic driving the conversation in the energy and environmental sectors. Easily view a full-rounded perspective on a critical topic from our publications in one email.

EDITORS' PICKS

Each week key stories are hand picked by the editorial team with an editors' note to highlight valuable content and personal insight of the news. Receive up to five key stories in a single email digest every Friday morning to recap significant news of the week.

MORNING ROUNDUP

A daily email that lists all the news headlines from E&E Daily, Climatewire, and Energywire. Scan all your early E&E News headlines in one email and start your day with all the critical energy and environmental updates.

SHARE AND GIFT ARTICLES

Generate share links to non-subscriber colleagues that can be posted on social media, emailed, or shared through other means to preview articles. Gift anyone up to 5 full articles per month.

DOCUMENTS

A centralized hub that houses exclusive documents cited in E&E News content and frequently referenced public records from Federal Register, Congress, the courts, and more. This powerful tool eliminates the exhaustive search through multiple sites and offers an effortless way to locate primary source information and relevant stories for insights into the impact on policy and business.

COMING SOON

LOG IN WITHOUT A PASSWORD

Subscribers will be able to log in to the platform through a link sent to their registered email instead of having to remember, save, or reset their password. This highly secure functionality will allow subscribers to easily access E&E News content regardless of any restrictions.